Twenty-one years ago, Brother Rice High School was just an idea, a dream perhaps. Throughout the course of the last several years that dream, that idea, has become a reality. The ability to take a goal or an ambition and make it come true is what Rice is all about. One of the greatest of all ambitions at Brother Rice is realized every year, when the faculty sees four years of hard work turned into young Christian men leaving Brother Rice and going out into a world full of challenges.

Turning

Ideas

Becoming A Part Of

Rice Pride

To the incoming freshmen, Rice pride is nothing more than the jubilation and singing of the school song at a football game. As time goes on, Rice pride comes to mean more to the vast majority of students. It means becoming a part of the school, and letting Rice become a part of the individual. This involvement in the school and all the school stands for is the foundation for school spirit and ultimately Rice Pride. By the end of four years, personal pride and pride in Rice is inseparable. All that the individual does concerning the school is done with an air of personal satisfaction as well as Rice Pride. In short, the individual is absorbed by the school and the school by the individual; a partnership which has proved to be very successful!

New

Striving To Reach

Heights Of Accomplishment

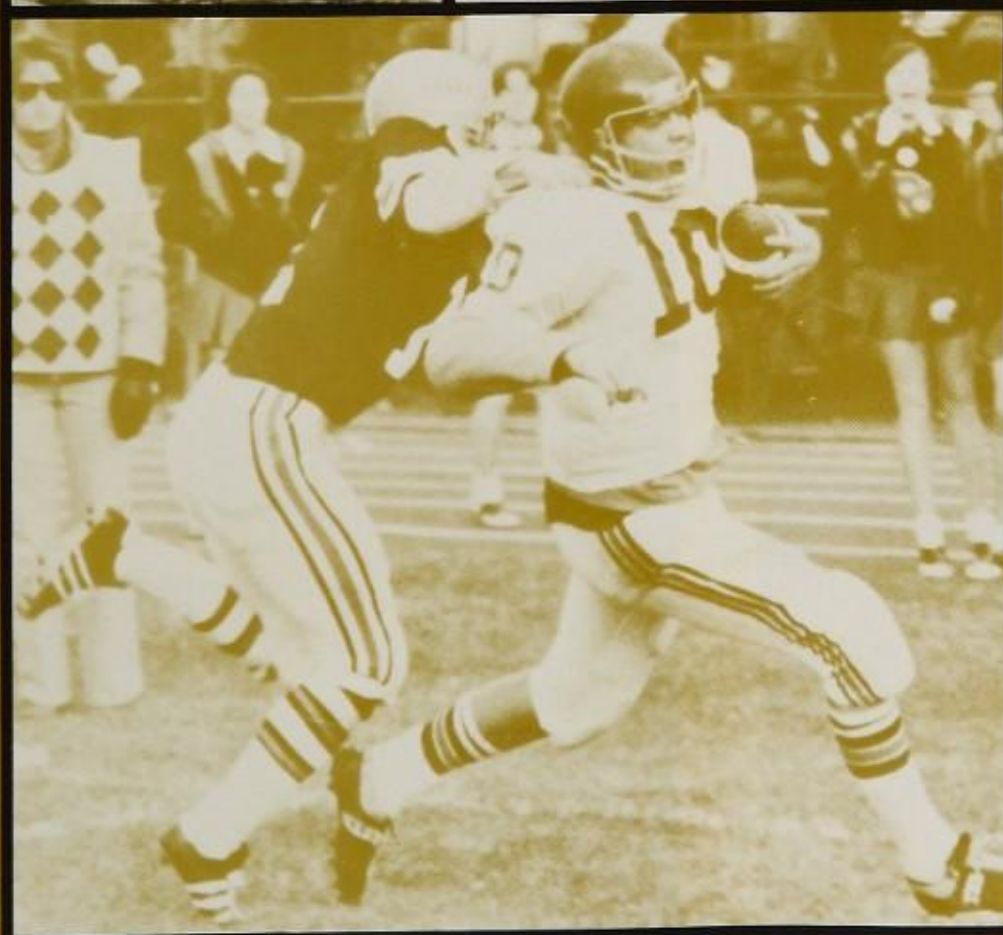

In the day-to-day drudgery that is school life, one can often lose sight of a year, semester, or season. However, it is characteristic of Rice students to overcome this apathy and place goals and values in their proper perspectives. More often than not, these goals are achieved, and both the individual and Rice benefit from the accomplishments. It is the incessant desire of true Ricemen to do better than they ever have before in all that they do academically, athletically and in activities.

This striving to reach new heights of accomplishments is primary in the perpetuation of Rice Pride. To say the least, all that Rice has come to mean to its students defies accurate description. It is a part of one's life that must be experienced rather than described.

Liturgies

The Rice Community Shares Its Faith.

Over the course of the year there were several liturgies, celebrating various holidays and special occasions at Brother Rice. The liturgies, usually held in the mornings before classes, were attended by a large number of Rice students.

Carried out with an added personal touch, the liturgies were designed to appeal to the younger assemblage. The music, along with the liturgical portions of the masses, was geared toward themes applicable to the students. The liturgies were well received by all and provided a well-rounded religious experience for the Rice student.

A new high in Rice-McAuley cooperation was achieved this year as Bro. Noonan and selected thespians from the drama departments of both schools produced William Shakespeare's famous comedy, A Midsummer Night's Dream. There were two evening shows in the Mother McAuley auditorium, while a majority of the freshman classes from both schools attended a Friday matinee.

Mike Durkin, Jerry Fleming, John Rowley, Bob Fitzgerald, Joe DeRose, Mary Pat McDonough, and Donna Toosley provided extra fine performances which were highlighted by sound and lighting effects controlled by Ms. Sandy Ionnane, McAuley's stage manager. Assisting her were the McAuley stage crew, Jim Cummings and Jim Walters, who controlled the behind-the-scenes action. Bro. Walczak was the House Manager and was assisted by usherettes from McAuley.

Bro. Noonan expressed pleasure at the overall turnout and was especially pleased at the way the play was received by the freshmen of the two schools. "Too many young students fail to realize that Shakespeare's works are far from dull or lacking in humor. I think this production has definitely proven that classical works can be and are highly entertaining and humorous."

Brother also expressed his gratitude for the tremendous amount of cooperation received from members of McAuley's administration, faculty, and student body. He also predicted that several upcoming productions would be equally successful because this inter-school cooperation was expected to remain with us through the 1976-1977 school year.

Homecoming: Action

Our Rice Crusader team began a brand new Homecoming winning streak this year as they defeated the Meteors from DeLaSalle 19-7. The victory, which was the sixth in a row for the team, was one of the many high points in a fun-filled rowdy week-end.

The weekend started out with the traditional Friday afternoon pep rally. However, a new twist was added this year. Senior Band members and several Pep Club members led the student body through the halls and down to the gym, while playing and singing the school song. The rally started off with school spirit at an all time high.

Spirit remained high throughout the game as the team turned in an excellent performance. A fine pregame show was presented by the Band, directed by P. J. Henning and led by Drum Major Chris McCaffery. The Band highlighted halftime activities with a musical salute to the Bicentennial. With Band accompaniment, twirlers and Cheerleaders put on a fine show of their own.

Homecoming: Tradition

After arriving at Gately with the motorcade, Cathy Perrault was crowned Homecoming Queen during the pre-game activities. She was escorted by Sam Panice, a captain of the football team. Other members of the Queen's Courts included Dan Griffin and Karen Randich, Kevin Graham and Cindy Schroeder, Gerry Jablonski and Nancy Riberto, and Bob Diericks and Cindy Lynch.

The Homecoming weekend was topped off Sunday night by a dance set to the theme of "Look into the Future." Northwind and Sahara provided the music to the dance which ended yet another successful Homecoming weekend at Rice.

Tiny Tempest

On December 10 and 11, an excellent performance was given in the Rice gym of A Tiny Tempest. The play was accompanied by a superlative band which provided contemporary pieces, an overture, and background music. Bro. D. D. Casey made his debut as a director with the aid of assistant director Bob Fitzgerald. Bro. E. J. Noonan and Mike Durkin provided a well done job in makeup.

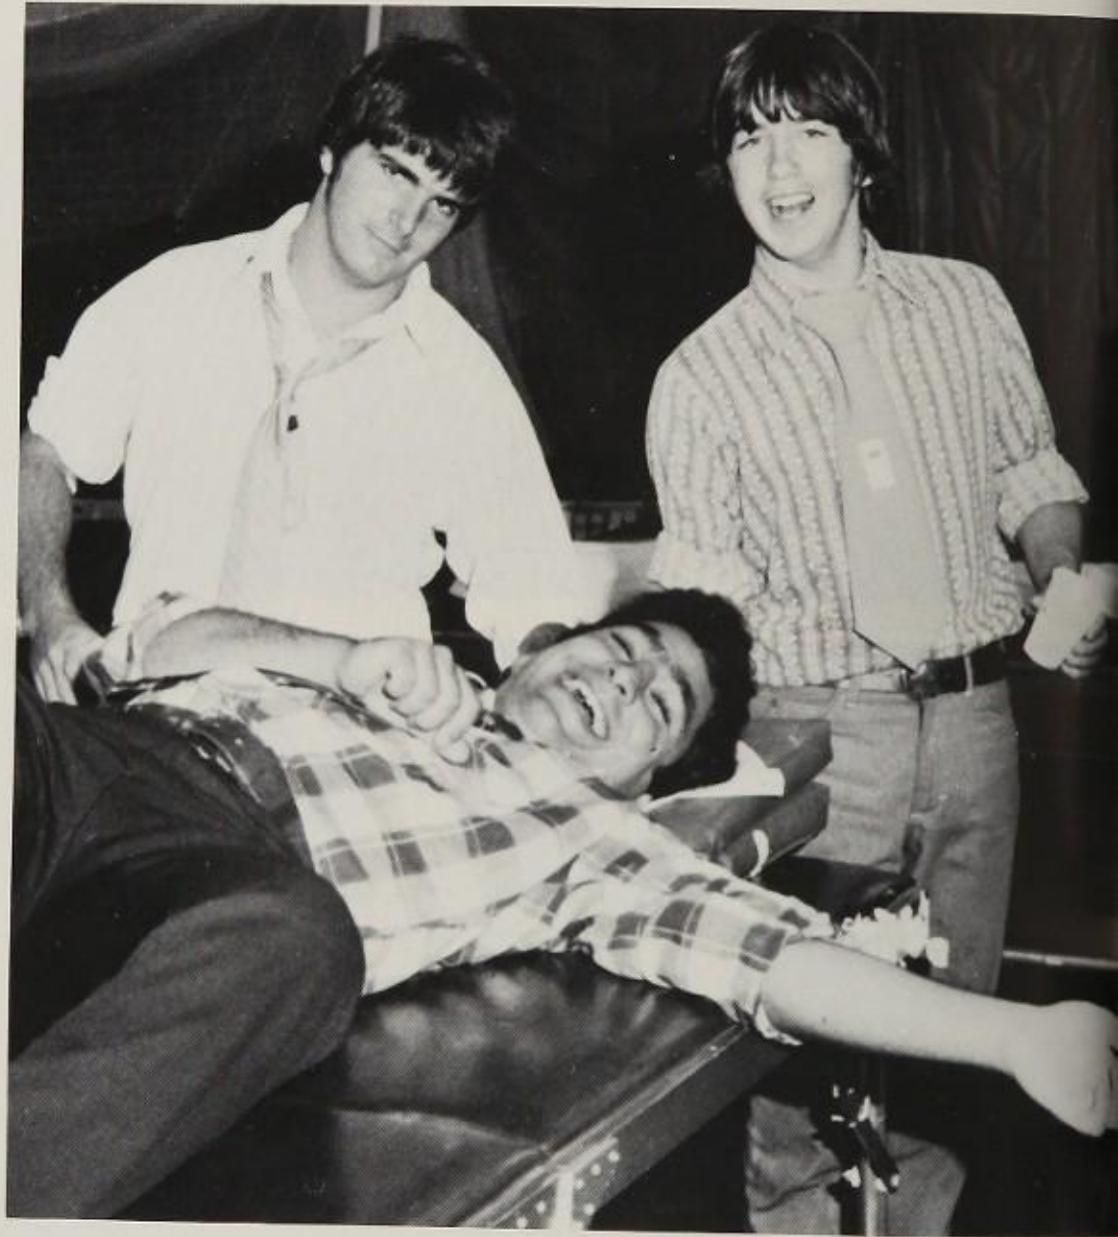

A Tiny Tempest, adapted by Bro. Noonan, showed a great deal of audience participation, especially when Jerry Flemming came out in the beginning as Will Shakespeare. Other fine performances came from Lisa Cronin as Miranda, Pete Ruzevich as Prospero, Joe DeRose as Caliban, Bob Chlebicki as Ferdinand, Michelle LaPorta as Sycarax, Pat McGreal as Antonio, and John Rowley as Alonzo. Newcomers to the Drama Club, Phil Fazio and Pat McNally, showed fine talents also. The play as a whole was an excellent portrayal of Shakespearean children's theatre.

Giving Of One's Self

Bro. Corrigan once again spearheaded the successful blood drive at Rice.

The 1977 Brother Rice Blood Drive, sponsored by the Beverly Blood Center and Christ Hospital, was once more successful. Over two hundred juniors and seniors contributed in the drive, which secured protection in case blood is needed either by the donor or his family.

A student wishing to give blood filled out an information card and was admitted to the gym between 8:15 and 2:15 on April 21. After twenty minutes of tests and questions the student was fed and approved as a donor. The blood was then taken and the student rested in order to regain his strength. The average recuperative period, depending on the student, lasted from twenty minutes to an hour. The entire drive was a great accomplishment not only because the school reached its quota, but also because it once again revealed the generosity and self-sacrifice on the part of the students at Brother Rice.

West Side Story

Major Musical Presentation

On the nights between March 24-27, Brother Rice High School was privileged to present Leonard Bernstein's West Side Story. Set on the west side of New York during the late 1950's, the play attempts to show the struggle between white and Puerto Rican street gangs. It centers on the Jets and Sharks fight for power and evolves into an emotional involvement between Tony, a Jet, and Maria, the sister of the Shark's leader Bernardo. The two attempt to overcome the racial gap separating them but fail when Anita, Bernardo's girlfriend, tells Tony that Maria is dead. The play reaches its climax when Tony and Maria find each other in a playground and run together. Chino, in revenge for Bernardo's death, shoots Tony and the play ends with the Jets and the Sharks both carrying out Tony's body.

The characters in the play were excellently portrayed by well over sixty performers. Especially outstanding performances were given by Dave Ladd as Tony, Donna Toosley as Maria, Jerry Fleming as Riff, Rodero Warren as Bernardo, Bob Fitzgerald as Doc, Nancy Warden as Anita, and Ray Lavery as Action. All of the players participated in a performance that brought out the point of the play — that peace is better than violence even between persons of different ethnic origins.

Spring Dance

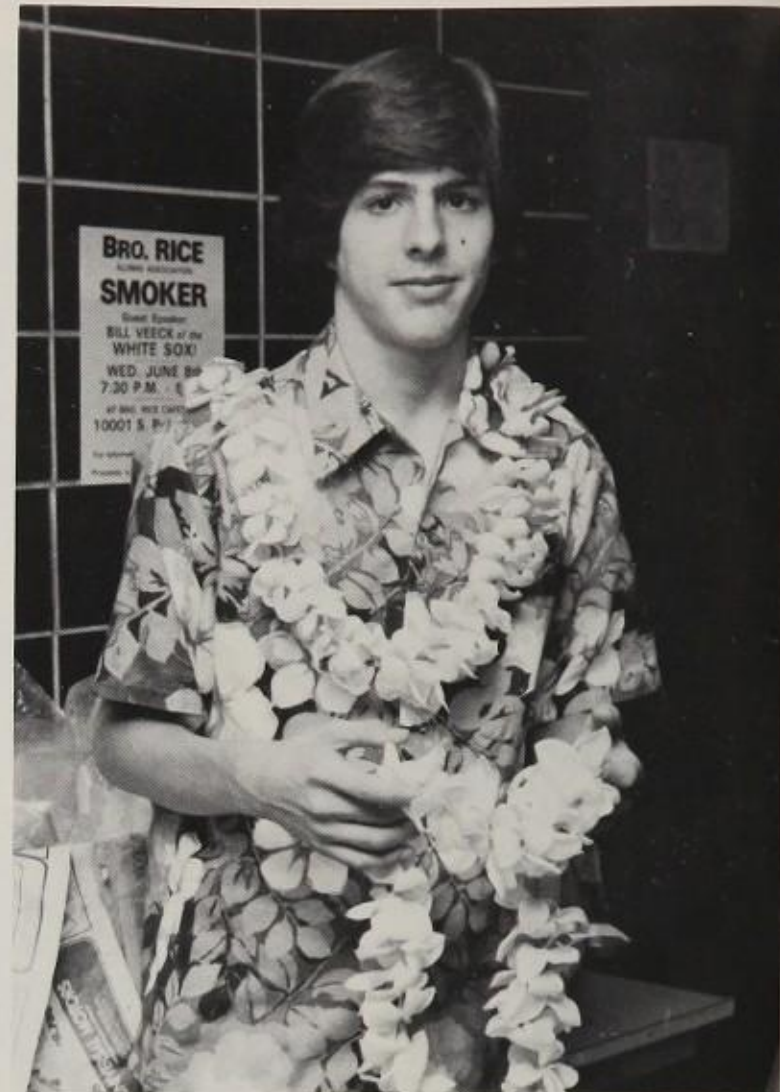

Sophomores and Juniors of Brother Rice were given their first chance to act as the school elders at the Spring Dance, which was held in the gym on Saturday, May 14. Set to the theme of "Endless Summer" the dance was held under a festive Hawaiian atmosphere in which leis were handed out to the attending couples. The music for the dance was provided by the band Fawn.

Jim Heidecker, who took over the presidency of the Dance Committee from Senior Vern Puchalski, was put to his first test. The results were an exciting dance, good music, and a very enjoyable evening for everyone.

Coming Out Of Hibernation

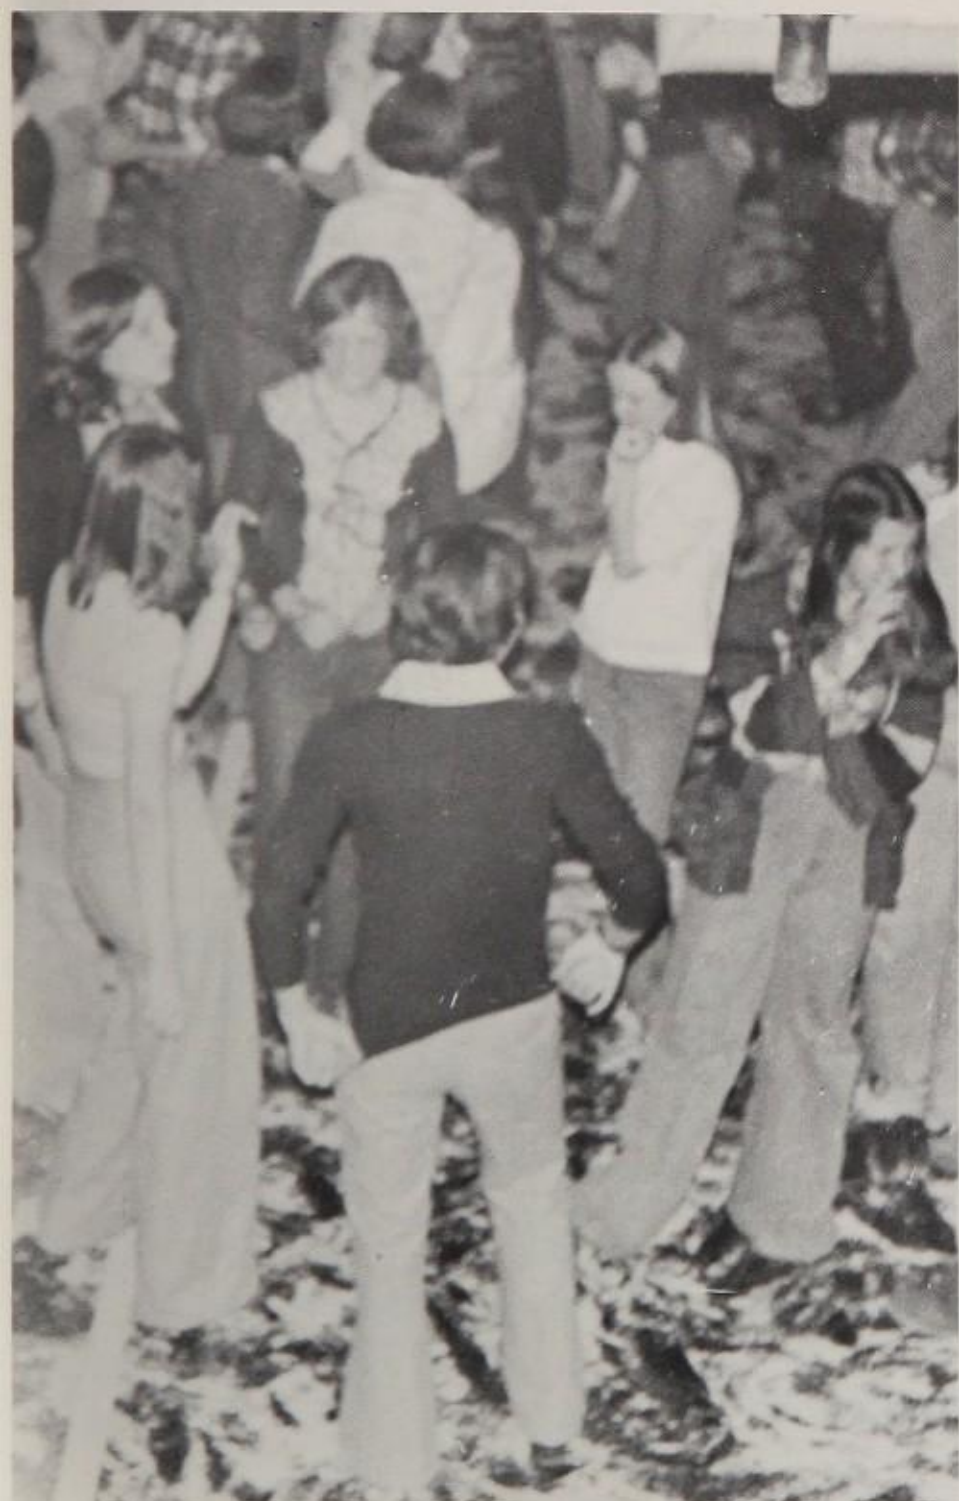

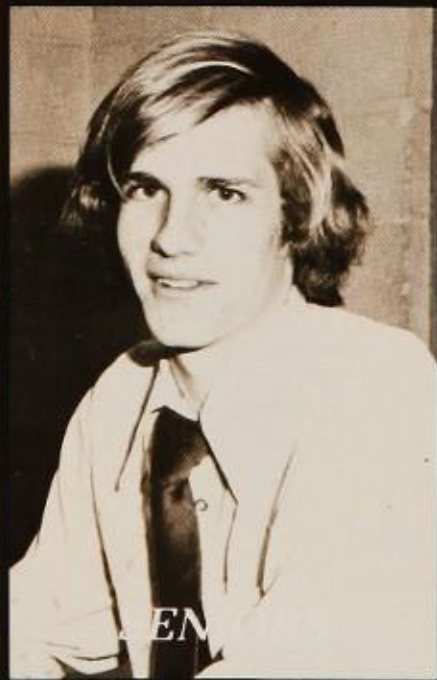

Sawdust Dances

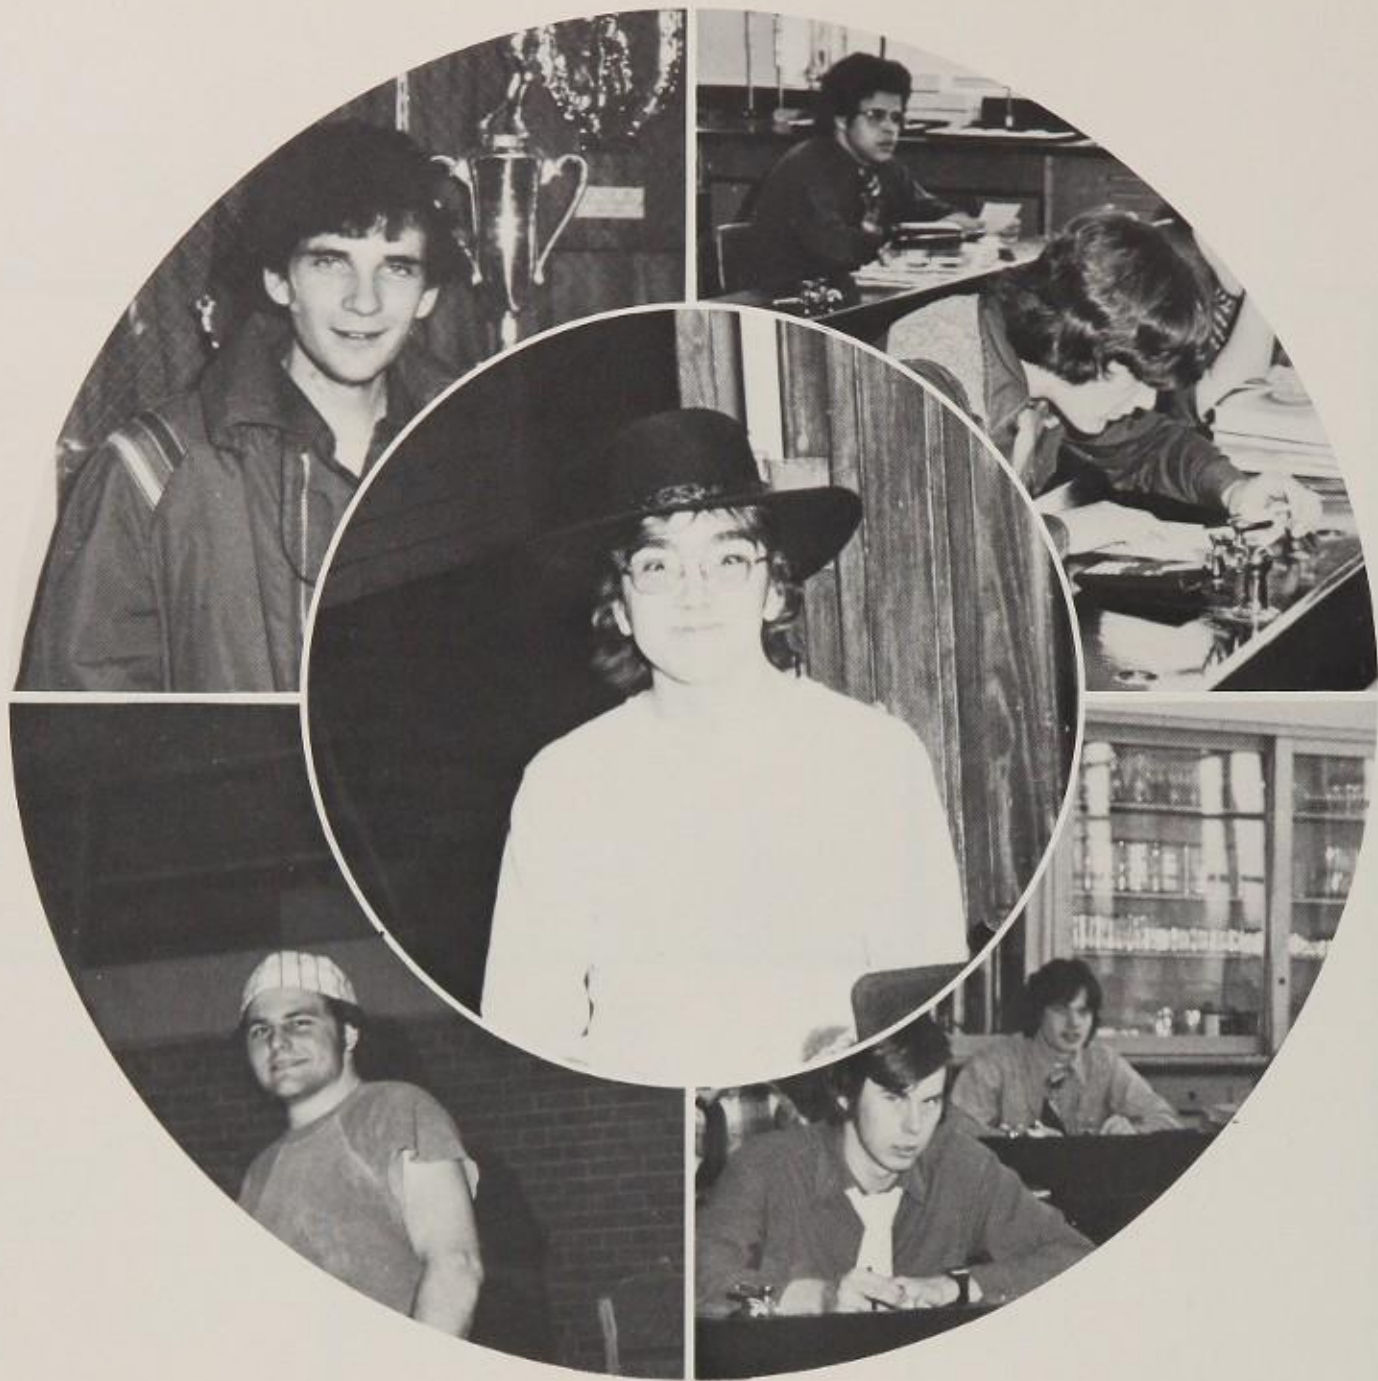

The Brother Rice dances are perhaps the most popular social functions available to the average freshman and sophomore. The dances are usually held once every month and they attract crowds of up to 1200 persons. The Brother Rice dance is so popular because there isn't any place so close that provides three hours of live music by top bands, a large crowd of young ladies, and a place to go bumming on Friday night. All of this is available for the small admission price of one dollar. During the year the Sawdust Dances featured such bands as Sahara, Free Wheelin', Fox Fire, and Sterling Blue. With all of these things available at such a low admission price, there isn't any reason why everyone shouldn't come out to a Brother Rice Sawdust Dance.

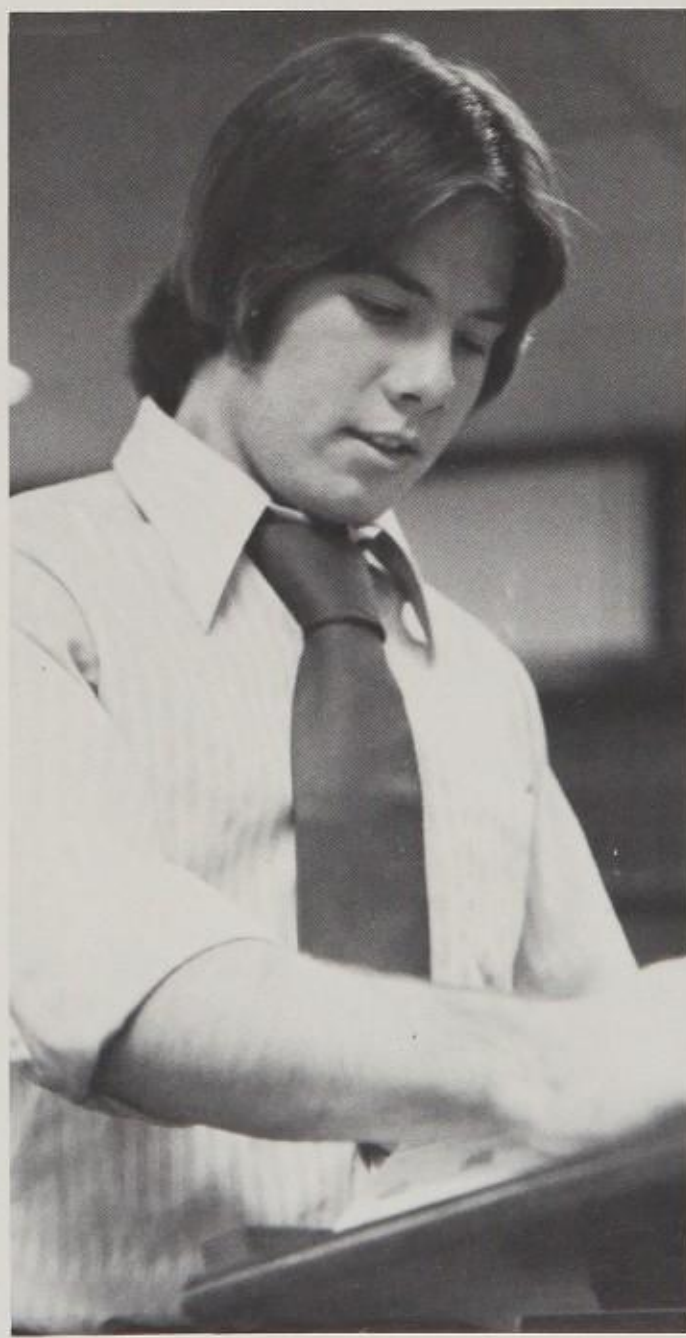

Class Of '77

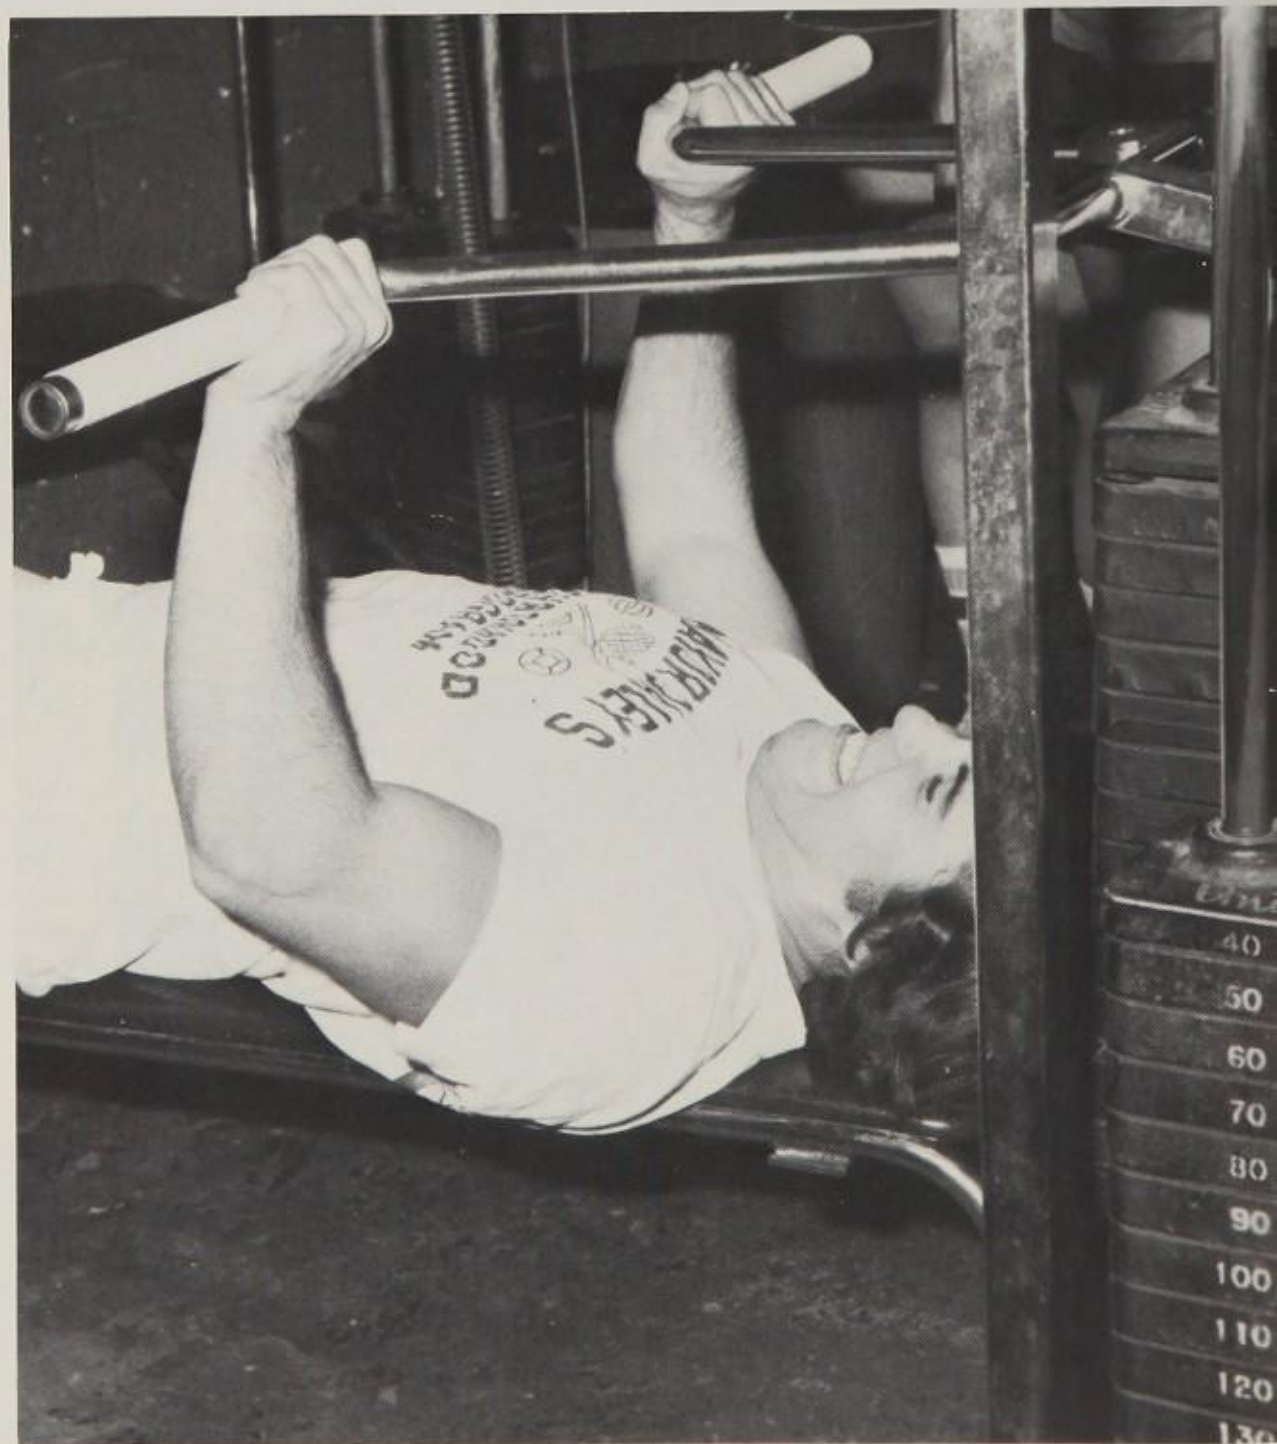

The Class of 1977 — a legitimate qualifier as one of the most unusual graduating classes in Brother Rice history. Needless to say, the Seniors have reached their high points as well as their low points, but in the course of four years this group of nearly five hundred individuals has grown and matured into a tightly knit unit which is able to act as a whole when the need arises.

And now to the unusual aspects of the Class of '77. This year's Seniors led the school in jugs obtained, which is not too surprising since the Juniors were the high scorers last year. In addition, the Seniors managed to hit the top of the attendance record, or rather the "lack of attendance" record. The Senior has also become the master of excuses and explanations, excusing his explanations and explaining his excuses. Furthermore, the '77 Seniors have totally mastered the art of procrastination with the cry of "I'll do it later!" All this is not to say that Rice Seniors are famous for shirking responsibility: on the contrary, these old-timers of the student body have risen to the challenges of the year and have emerged as the victors.

They Came,

And They Conquered

Although the Class of '77 may not have always lived up to its expectations, it has fostered a spirit of leadership and academic competition that rivals the best in Rice's history. The Seniors have provided a worthy example for the rest of the school, an example which includes knowing how to win, compete, improve, and occasionally lose.

Among the more important aspects of Senior life which underclassmen should be aware of are the classroom survival tactics. These jungle laws include forcing one's self to laugh at the teacher's feeble attempts at a joke, mastering the art of sleeping with one's head up, and learning how to speak without saying anything. To say the least, the Class of '77 has made a go of fulfilling the goals, dreams, and expectations that surround a Senior year. The vast majority of the class has lived and learned much in the past nine months. They have met with the hardships and challenges of Senior year, and have come out successful.

The Crusader '77 Offers To Our Seniors Some Colorful Memories Of The Closing Of Their Most Eventful Year . . .

The 1977 Brother Rice Senior Prom afforded over 300 couples the chance for an evening filled with food, fun, and dancing.

Seniors wishing to attend fulfilled their financial obligations and arrived at the Condesa del Mar on Friday evening, April 29. The students and their dates were met by a receiving line which included Bro. Hennessy, members of the Mother's and Dad's Clubs, and other distinguished guests. The couples, dressed in attire ranging from white all the way to bright lavender, were seated and the evening began.

The Prom was set to the theme of "Over the Hills and Far Away" and the evening rocked on to the music of Free Wheelin' and Raintree. Dinner was served about 11:00 and the couples feasted on prime rib. After dinner, the music and talk continued until the Prom was officially closed at 2:00.

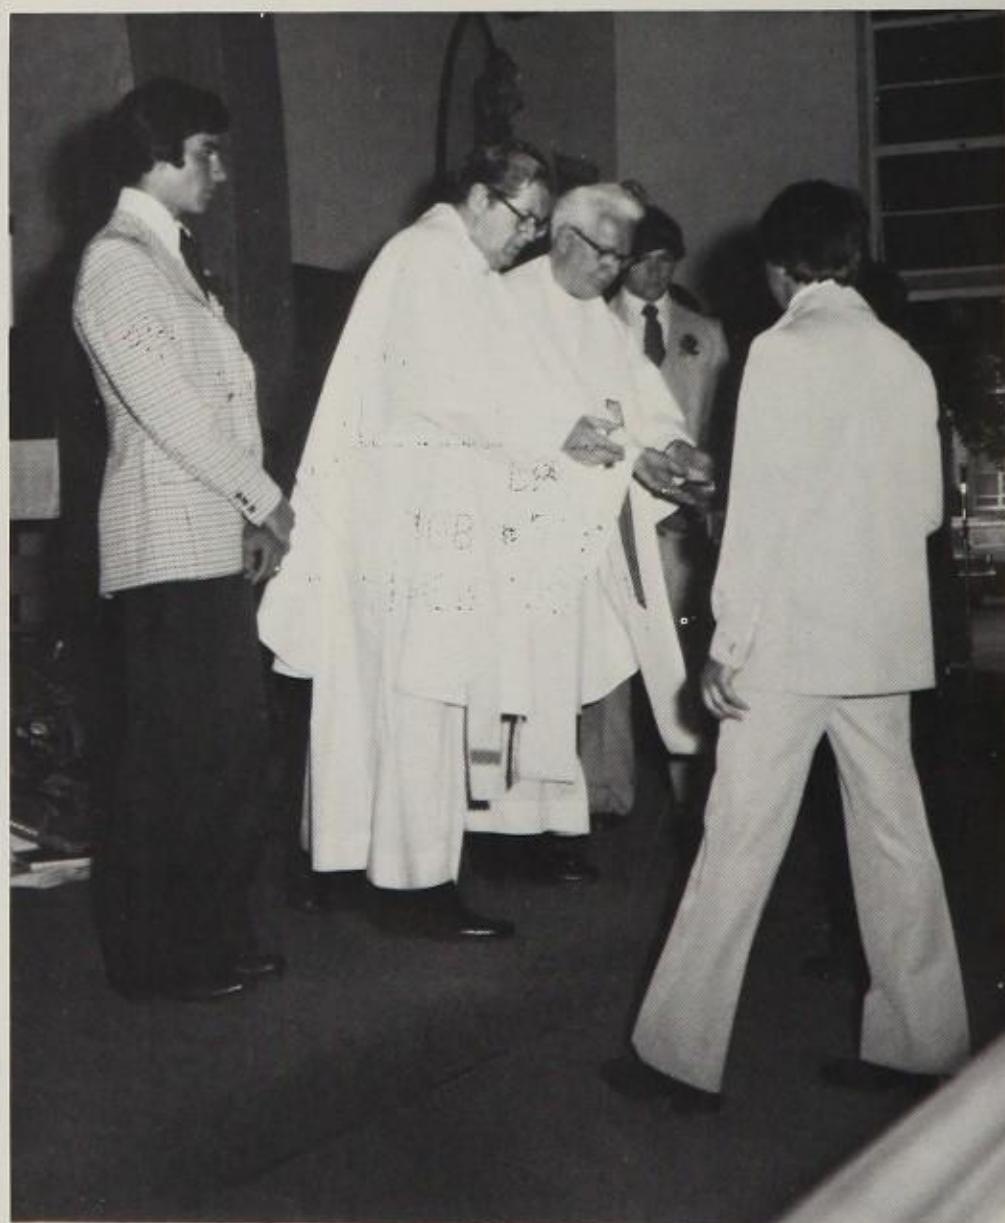

Afterwards, most of the couples drove off to various parties or to rest up in anticipation of the following day's festivities. In all, the Prom was a success as everyone enjoyed a very memorable evening. Special thanks goes to Bro. Walczak and the Prom Committee for making everything possible.

Family Affair: Graduation Mass And Dinner

On Friday, May 20, the Brother Rice Graduating Class of 1977 and parents gathered for the last time to celebrate the Baccalaureate Mass at Queen of Martyrs Church. It was the culmination of four years of Christian schooling and was centered around the thoughts of what the past held, what the present holds, and what the future will bring. The music for the Mass was provided by a few Rice Seniors and girls from surrounding schools.

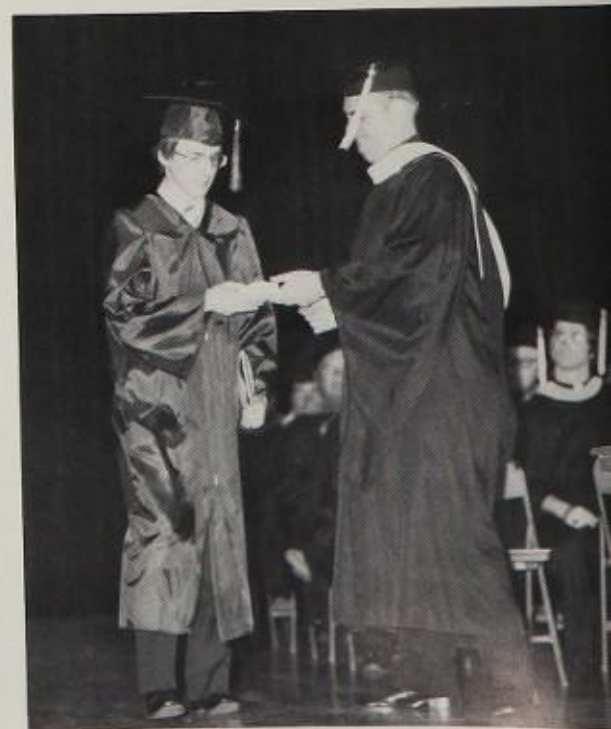

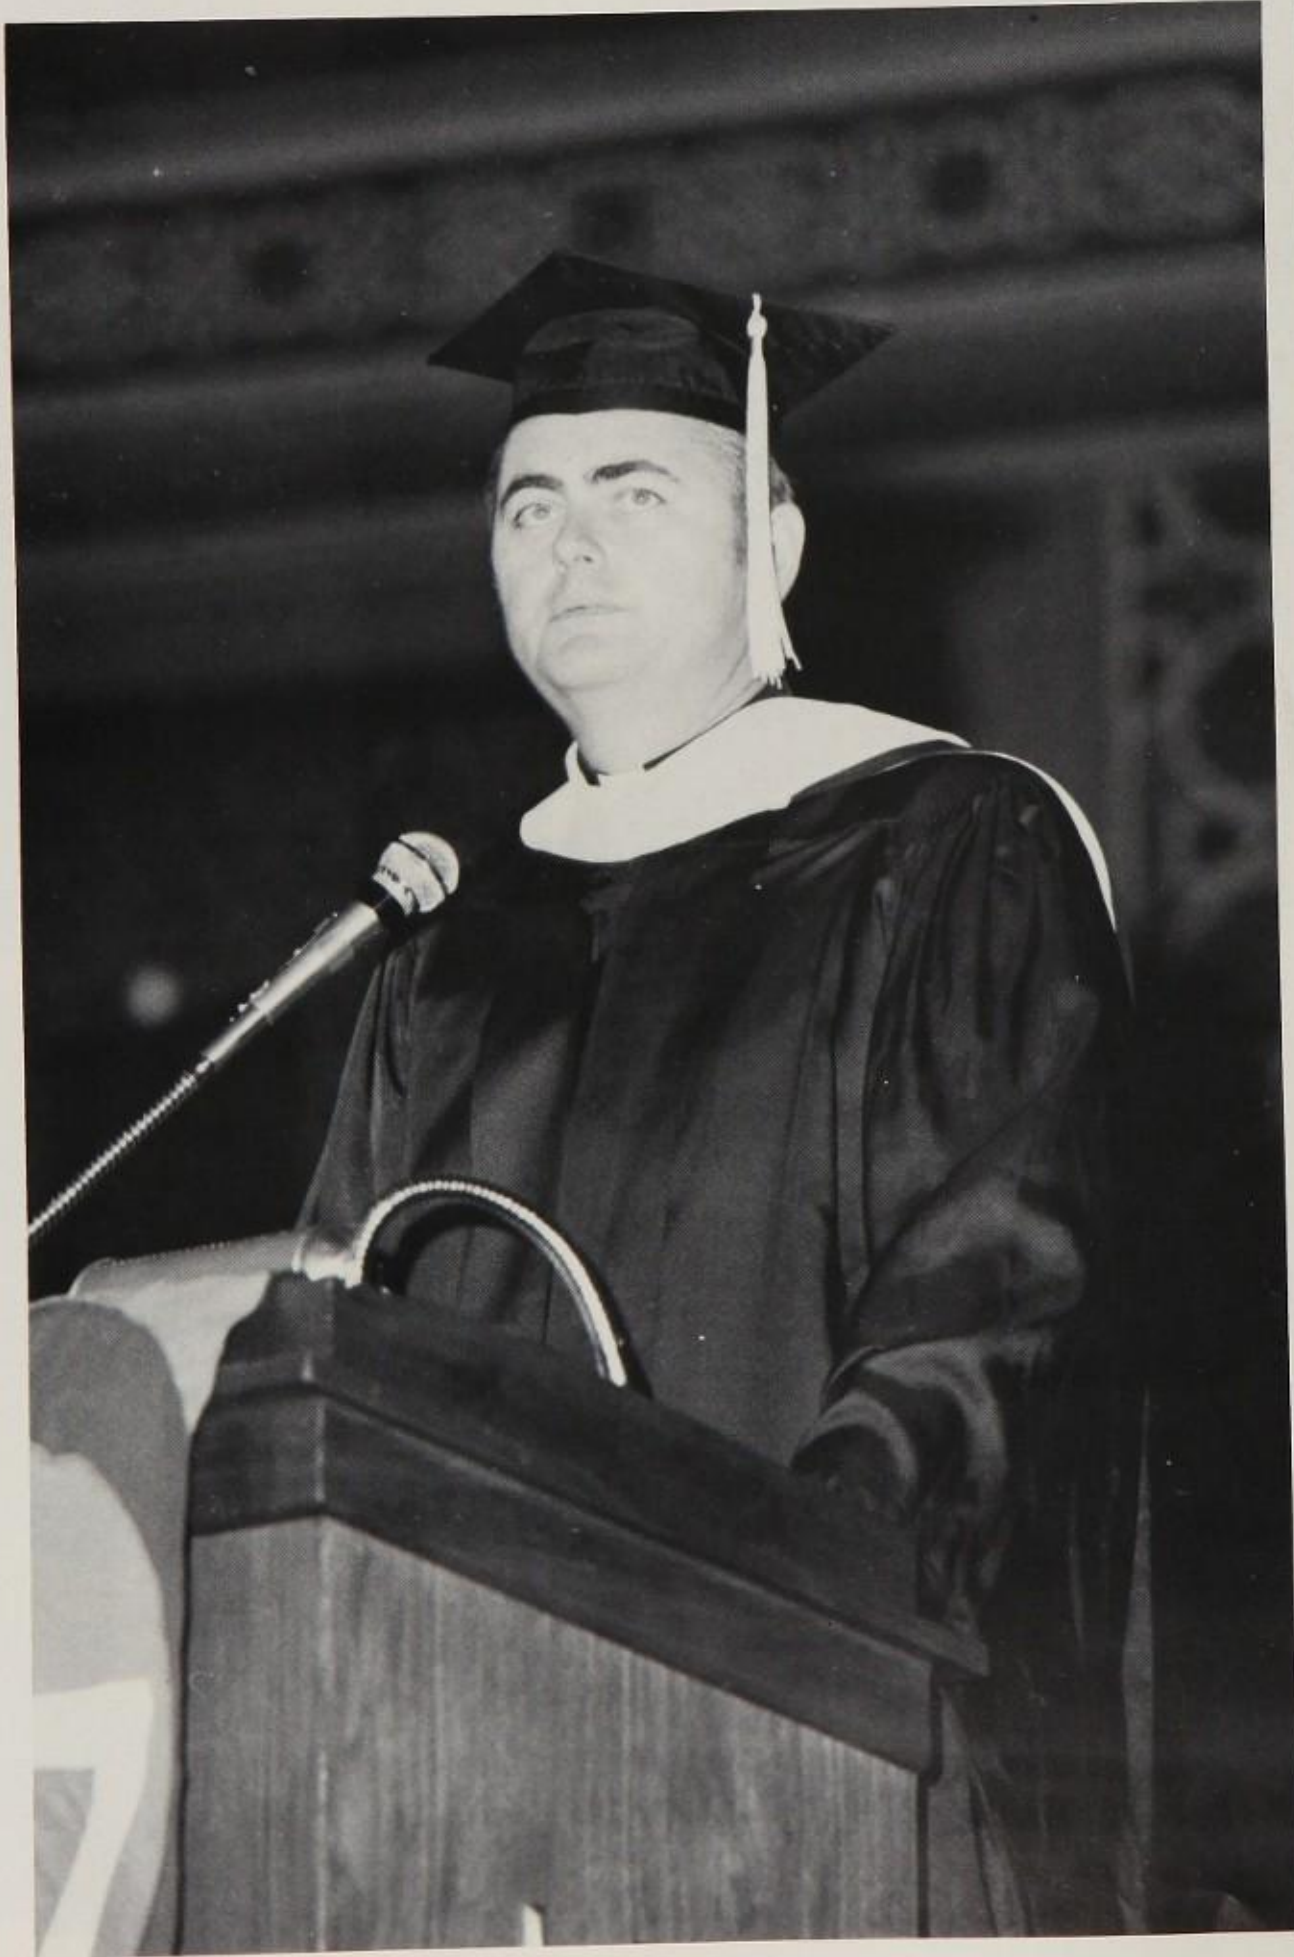

After the Mass everyone made for Rice's gym and cafeteria where a buffet dinner was held for the faculty, the graduates, and their parents. All those attending completed the feast and engaged in discussions concerning the upcoming graduation.

The Baccalaureate Mass and Dinner signaled the end of high school for the 476 graduating Seniors of Brother Rice. It was the last time for many of the students and parents to get together and everyone enjoyed a worthwhile and fulfilling experience.

18th Commencement Exercises

While all the underclassmen at Rice were dreaming of the few weeks left of school, the Seniors were busily preparing themselves for graduation. After four years of endless toil, of countless lectures, of brain-straining study, the end of high school was just days away.

On Friday, May 20, hundreds of Rice Seniors and their parents attended the Baccalaureate Mass at Queen of Martyrs and then traveled to Rice's gym where a buffet dinner was held.

Saturday was the last day of high school for over four hundred Seniors. The day was spent in different ways but no matter what any one individual did he could not forget that tomorrow was the "biggie," what he had waited for four years.

On Sunday, May 22, the Brother Rice graduates gathered in the basement of Medinah Temple to change into their caps and gowns. Final farewells were said as they found their seats and the ceremony began.

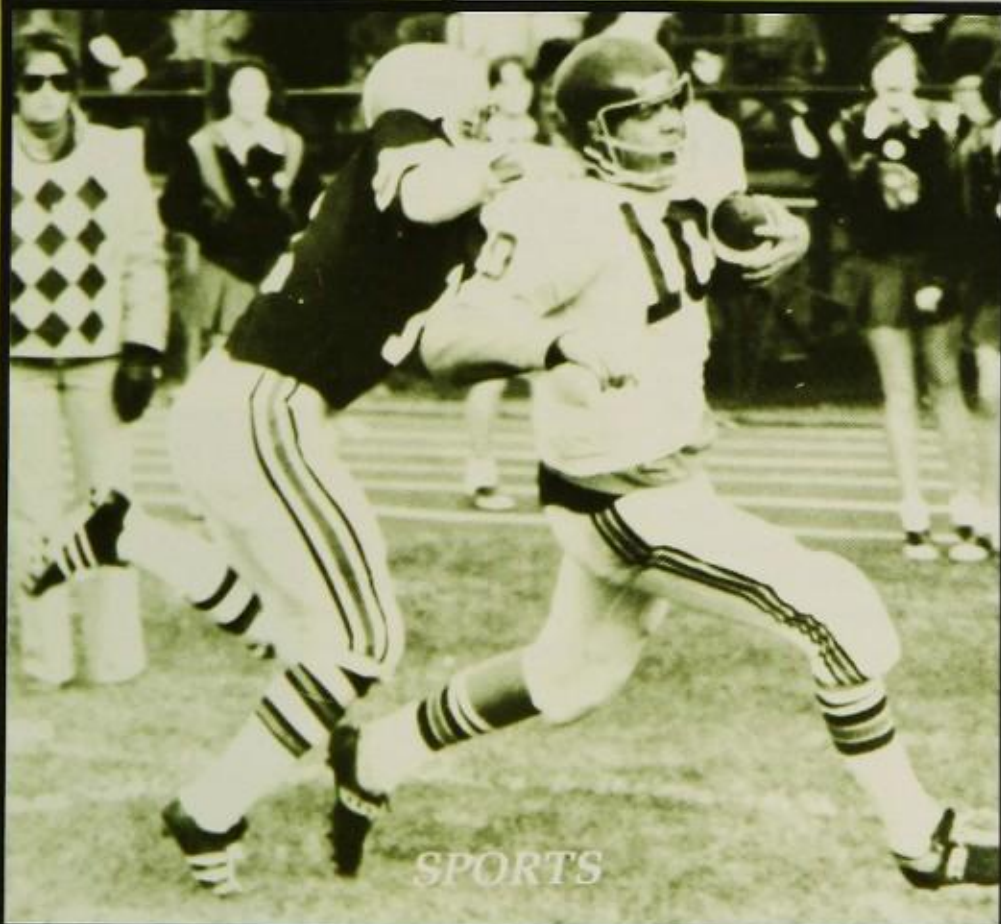

The faculty marched in and the National Anthem was played. Bro. Corrigan opened with a prayer, asking God to bless the proceedings and to be with the graduates always. Bro. Hennessy then addressed the students and turned the floor over to Valedictorian Ronald Karabowitz and Student Council President Michael Mayer. Both expressed their personal feelings about the Class of 1977, and wished the best of luck to everyone. The diplomas were then handed out by Bro. Hennessy and Bro. Duffin. The rest of the Commencement Exercises went quickly with the distribution of special awards, a final address, and the playing of the school fight song.

The Class of 1977 may not have achieved as much as those in previous years, but it tried its best to give the school what it could. And this is as much as anyone could ask. The previous four years will forever hold memories, good and bad alike, and in the words of Mike Mayer "You're the greatest bunch of guys I have ever known. You will never be forgotten."

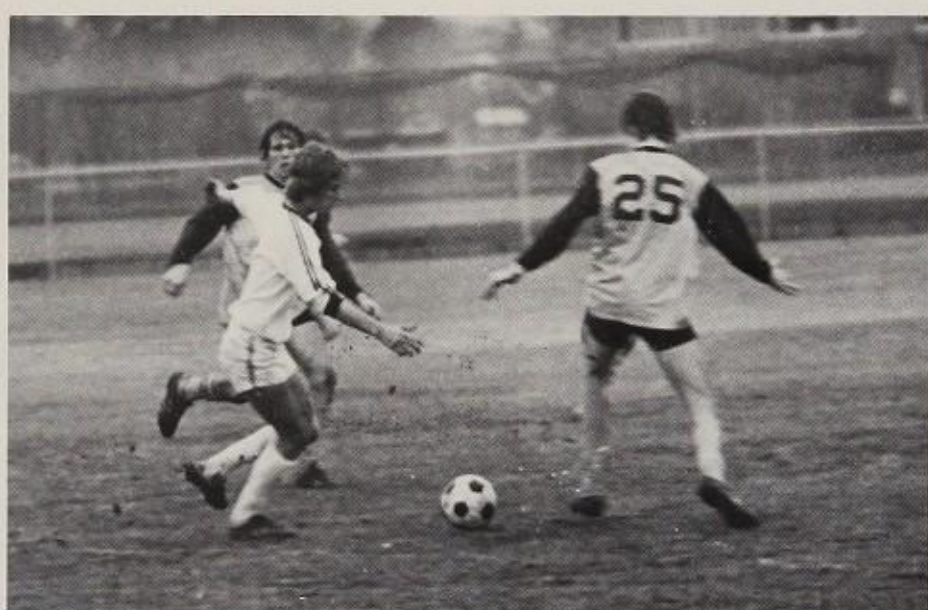

Soccer

The 1976 Soccer Team, regarded by many as the team to beat, ended the Fall season with a third place finish in a formidable Catholic League. Led by Coach Markulin and all-time high Rice goal scorer Jerry Tinley, the kickers posted an overall season record of 13-7.

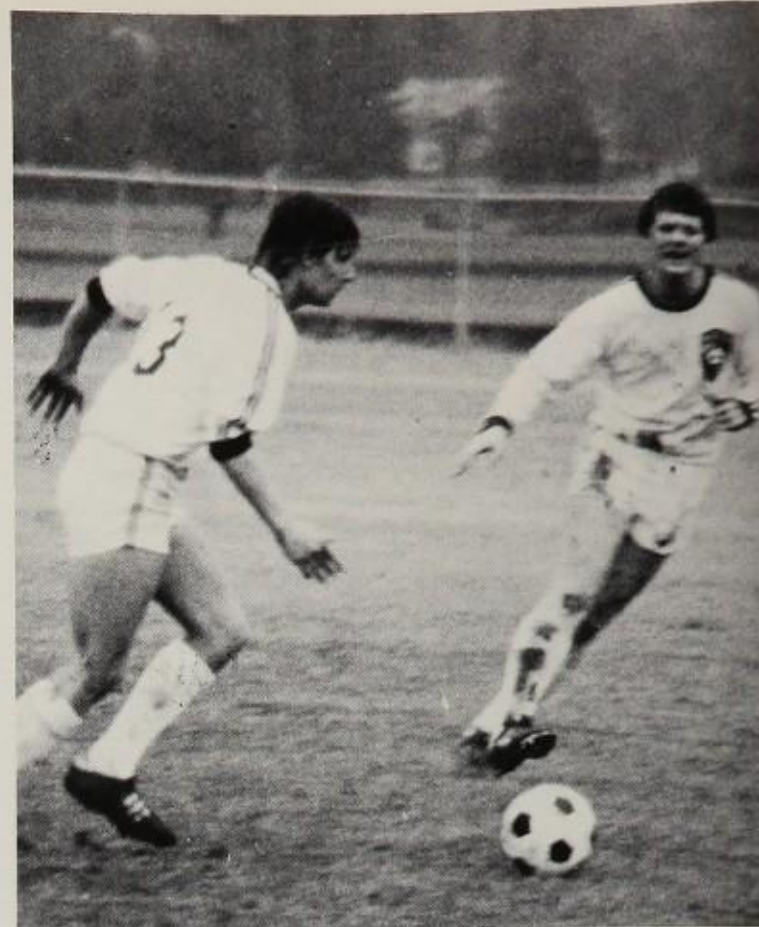

Displaying possibly the best ball control in the league, it should be noted that the kickers' weakness was definitely not talent. Among the standouts and their respective awards were Senior forwards John Quattrochi and Jerry Tinley, and Senior fullback Greg O'Brien — Catholic League All-Conference First Team; Senior fullback Phil Marshall — All-Conference Second Team; Senior Forward Tom Stanker — Honorable Mention.

The highlight of the year would have to be an eventful exhibition trip to St. Louis (Soccer City, U.S.A.) where the kickers played .500 ball under very extreme conditions.

One disheartening aspect of this year's excitement came in the final game where the Crusaders played into four overtimes until defeat finally overtook the team at the hands of a surprisingly strong St. Ignatius squad. This climactic game came all too soon and was considered a disappointing end to a most successful season.

Nevertheless, the kickers were in every game this year and proved to everyone that Brother Rice is a school that just won't quit. Much credit goes to the players themselves and to head coach Mr. Markulin. Under his guidance the team was responsible for a most amazing season.

Hockey

It was another hard-fought season for the defending Kennedy Cup Champion Crusaders. The team finished with a fine 17-3 record which placed the Crusaders in second place. Maintaining the Kennedy Cup tradition at Rice, this year's team proceeded to eliminate the St. Laurence squad in two consecutive games of 3-1 each. The final game in the Cup championship put Mt. Carmel against the Crusaders. Although Rice was not able to once again secure the coveted Kennedy Cup, the Crusaders came as close as possible, losing to Mt. Carmel by a score of 2-1.

Rice's individual excellence was recognized as four members of the team were voted to the Catholic League All-Stars — seniors Jim Juracka and Jim Mazurowski, and juniors Bob Bandyk and Jerry Augustine. In addition, senior Tom Oboikovitz received the Catholic League's Most Valuable Defenseman award. Under the fine coaching of Don Menoni and Mr. Petrak, the team had a very successful year and hopes to grow and prosper in the future.

J.V.-Frosh-Soph Hockey

The 1976-77 Junior Varsity Hockey Team had a surprising season. Having only three returning players, and six incoming freshmen, the JV Team, led by their coach, Tom Kurow, worked its way to an incredible 45-2-0 record. Last year's State Champions, the Crusaders wound up their season by taking second place honors in the 1976-77 State Tournament. Losing only one game all season, the Crusaders dropped the championship game 5-2, to a talented Glenbrook North. The JV Team gained entry to the final contest by defeating Homewood-Flossmoor, Pekin, Lyons Township, and then by edging Evanston 3-2.

Other season highlights were winning the Willow Ice Chaley Christmas Tournament, stealing First Place during the regular season at Willow, with a 18-0-0 record, and winning the playoffs by defeating Lyons Township 3-2 in an exciting double-overtime contest. The JV Team also broke a school record by winning thirty-six games in a row.

Seasonal honors were accorded to freshman goalie Dan Casper (Best Defensive Player); and sophomore Dave Kurow (High Scorer and Most Valuable Player). In two years as head coach, Tom Kurow has led the JV Team to an over-all 82-4-1 record.

The Brother Rice Varsity Basketball Team concluded the 1976-1977 season with a record of 8-5, finishing in a fourth place tie with Weber.

After getting off to a slow start, losing to De La Salle 74-66 and Weber 66-52, two of the top-ranked teams in the league, the Crusaders bounced back by conquering St. Rita 76-68 and Mt. Carmel 63-45.

The next three games proved to be tough for the Crusaders despite the continual effort they put forth. After losing to Mendel 51-50, and after two controversial fouls called on Brother Rice late in the game, Coach Kellogg's squad defeated St. Ignatius 68-66.

Though in their following game, the Crusaders had the lead over St. Laurence all through the game, they were unable to prevent the Vikings from tying the score in the remaining seconds and later winning in overtime. The exciting game ended with Rice losing 55-53.

In the second half of the season, Brother Rice became amazingly successful, beating Loyola 54-47, Hales 55-41, St. Francis de Sales 54-45, Fenwick 52-45, and Leo 67-60. The only team they were unable to defeat in the last half of the season was Gordon Tech, losing by the score of 78-68.

Entering the Eisenhower Regional of the state playoffs, the Crusaders drew a bye in the first round. The team faced a tough Eisenhower squad in the semifinals, losing a real heartbreaker by the final score of 60-55.

By the end of the season, Coach Kellogg and his team, including starters Steve Klutcharch, Rick Langert, John Feehery, Bill Brannigan, and Jim Fazekas proved to be top competitors for everyone they faced. Jim Fazekas was one of the league's top scorers.

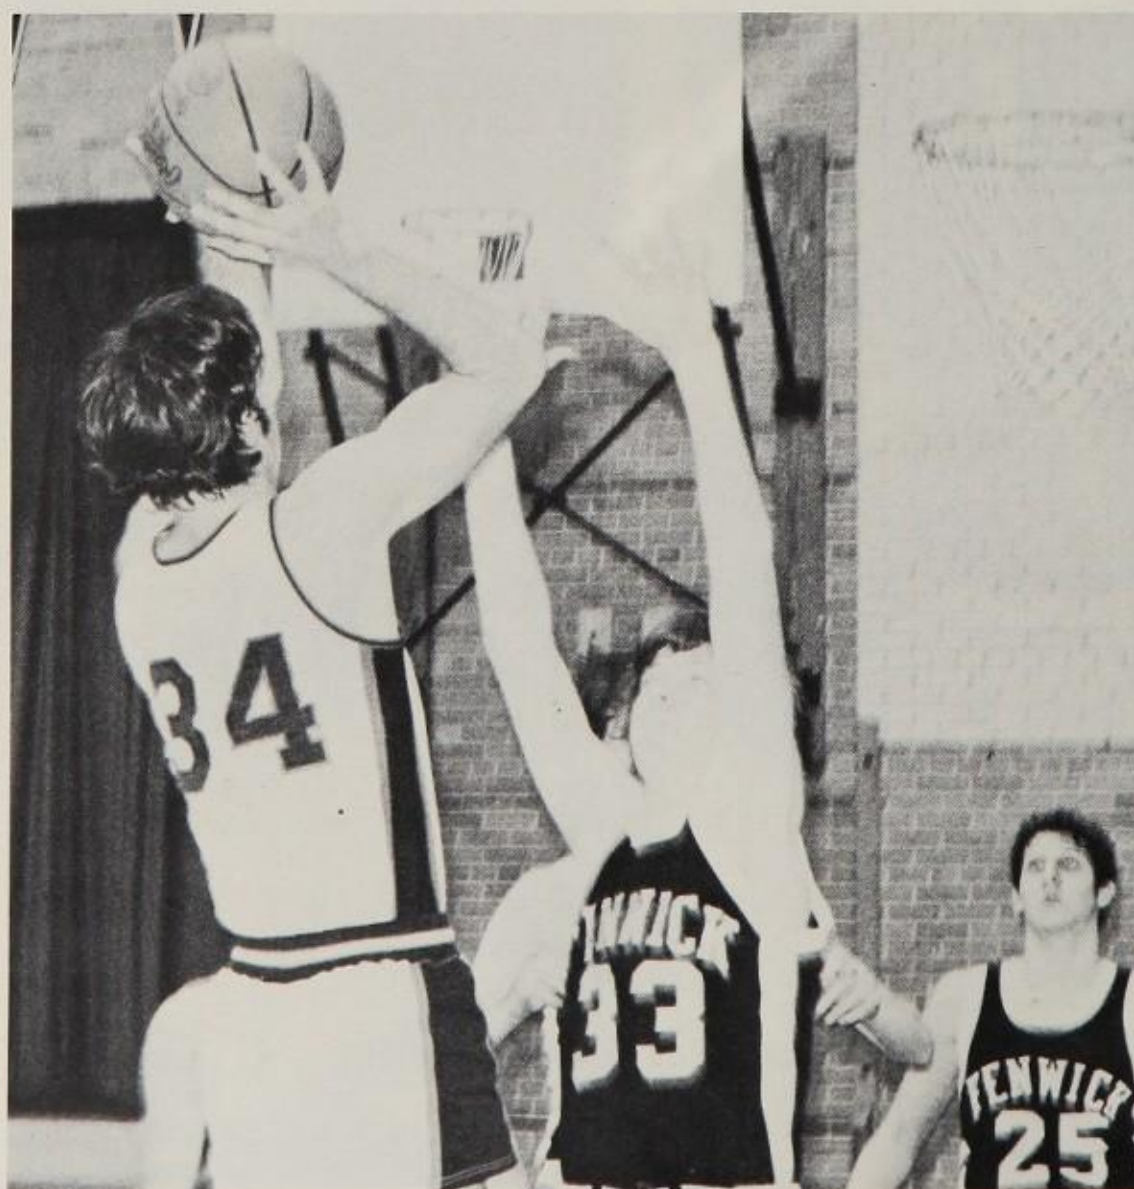

The credit of this very fine season goes to the players, the managers, and especially to Coach Kellogg. Without his expert guidance and leadership, the team continued on in the true spirit and excellence of Brother Rice.

Varsity Football

After last year's City title, the football team went on to bigger and better things as for the first time in the School's history, the team qualified for the IHSA state playoffs as an at-large entry. A spirited, but injury-riddled, team met a tough Hershey squad on November 10, 1976 at their home field in Arlington Heights. Led by the stellar play of Tony Michalek and Jim Solus, the team played well and went right down to the wire before losing 15-14. Fifteen penalties were assessed against the Crusaders during the game.

At the outset of the season, the Crusaders were picked to finish fourth behind Mt. Carmel, St. Laurence, and St. Rita. In their first two games, they recorded impressive victories as they soundly defeated St. Rita (20-6) and Marist (28-0). In their first league game they won a cliffhanger over Fenwick in a come-from-behind victory, 7-6.

The Crusaders rambled on as the squad chalked up wins over Leo (14-0) and a struggling Mt. Carmel team (14-0). The victory over De LaSalle (19-7) continued the rich tradition of the Brother Rice Homecoming.

With thoughts of the St. Laurence Vikings and the showdown for the Catholic League Championship, the team continued its winning ways, posting victories over Gordon Tech (16-0) and St. Francis de Sales (14-0).

With identical records of 8-0 and the league championship on the line, the Crusaders and Vikings hit head-on at Gately Stadium on November 6. The game was a vicious, hard-hitting affair with a heavy toll on injuries. Injuries to quarterback Larry Ruzich (broken wrist), halfback John York (knee), and flanker Lamar Summers (broken ribs) seriously dampened title chances in the state playoffs. The Crusaders played well, but the Vikings emerged the victors, 28-7.

For the second year in a row, both the Varsity and JV Bowling teams were crowned Catholic League Champions. Both squads completed the season with impressive 8-2 records. In South Section play, the Varsity was the sole possessor of first place, while the JV was honored along with St. Laurence. In the North Section roll-off for champs, the pinners captured the coveted prize.

The team was led by Senior Captain Larry Brown with a 182 average. Other pinners included Senior Elmer Shannon, and Juniors Jack Macke, John Brdecka, John Dysza, Bob Sanowskis, Bob Babcevic, and Tony Aguirre. Macke posted the greatest series in the history of the Catholic League. He bowled games of 266, 262, and 217 for a series total of 745.

Coach Johnston was very pleased with the team's performance, summing up the season as "terrific." With six of the seven starters returning, he sees a dynasty in the making.

Golf

Both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity Golf teams completed successful seasons. The Varsity cruised to a 7-2 record. The team came in fourth in the Catholic League Championships. Only two shots separated them from the second-place team. In the State Districts, where the top three teams qualify for the finals, the team placed fourth behind tough teams from Mt. Carmel, Marist, and Richards. The team was led all season by the stellar play of Jack Mitchell, Alan Dorsey, Bill Rohan, Mike Moran, Randy Schwartz and Elmer Shannon.

The fine performance of the Junior Varsity squad, who finished with a 7-1 record and a third place finish in the City, promises that the future will be bright for subsequent golf teams.

The 1976 Water Polo Team proved this year why it is one of Rice's powerhouses. The team produced two All-Americans — Tom O'Connell and Ron Kotula — and numerous other accomplishments.

The squad was led by captain Rich Ward and was under the direction of Bro. J. R. McDonald and Bro. J. P. Reynia. This was Bro. McDonald's first year as head coach and Bro. Reynia's first year as assistant coach. Together they led the team to a 5-3 league record. The team then went on to win Districts with an outstanding 6-0 record. The year ended with an overall record of 21-7.

Rice finished fourth in state competition after losing a hard-fought game against a good Loyola team.

The team is losing three All-State Seniors, but hopes are high for next year's returning squad which includes two All-Catholic Leaguers.

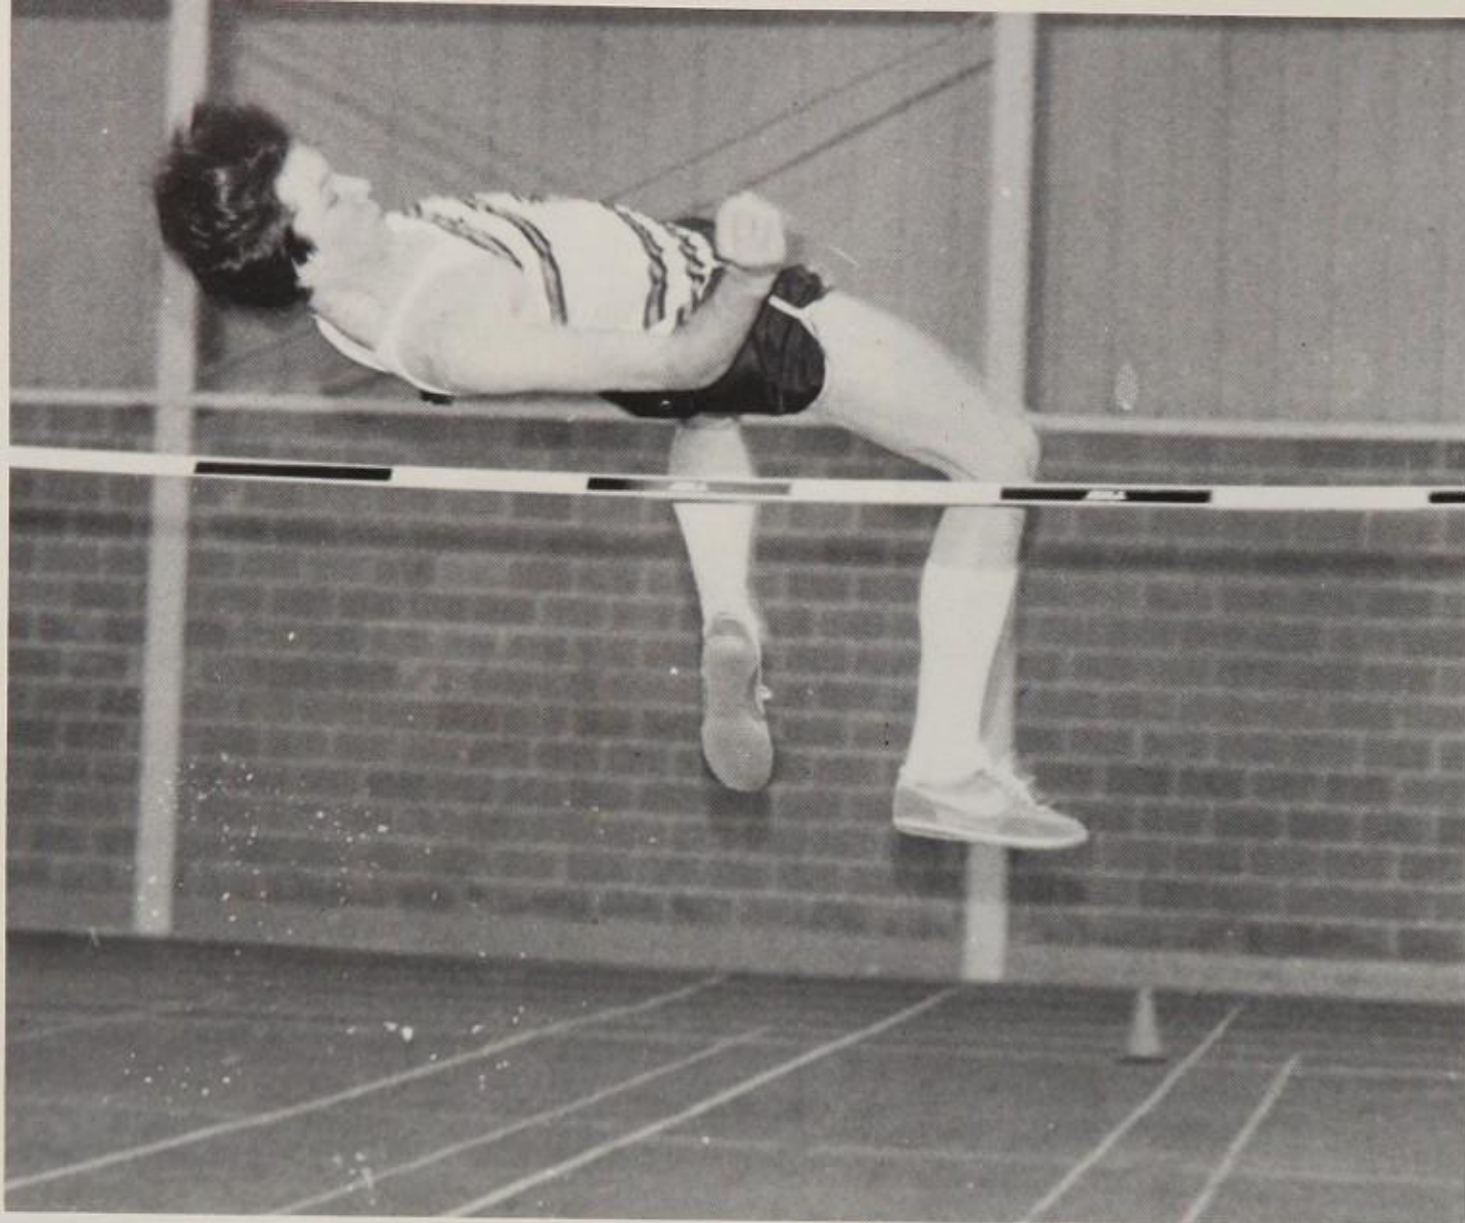

Track

The 1977 track season proved to be another feather in the cap of recent Rice Track and Field history. Rice trackmen continued to build nothing short of a dynasty in Catholic League competition. This year's Catholic League City Championship marks the third time in four years that the Varsity has captured the title. In addition, the Frosh-Soph also captured the Catholic League title for the second time in as many years. So, for the last two years Rice has gained the Catholic League titles on both levels. The Track Team also turned in a number of command performances.

Ironically, much of Rice's track success rests in its strong field competition. Bro. Schul and Bro. Granitz, head coach and assistant coach respectively, have been stressing a strong field program for several years. Co-Captains of the team include Jim Solus, Gene Payne and Greg Smith. Solus became the first runner in Rice history to win an individual first place award in IHSA by winning the long jump with a leap of 23'3½". Once again Rice finished the season on a winning note. Credit is due not just to the hard-working athletes, but also to the coaching staff which consistently manages to turn out a winning Track and Field team for Brother Rice.

Clockwise From Right: 1) Br. Grantiz, as assistant track coach, goes over times during the school's premier event, the Rice Relays. 2) Two-mile relay record-setters: Dan Sutcliffe hands off to John Duffy at Rice Relays. 3) Junior Tom Dwyer shows his potential in the pole vault, and the team will rely heavily on his skills in the '78 season. 4) Sophomore Tim Daum starts off the 2-mile in indoor City Meet. 5) A State Best and school record in the making, by Jim Solus (23'9") during Rice Relays. 6) Senior high jumper Phil Cerney was a State finalist for two consecutive years.

The 1976 Brother Rice Cross Country Team closed out its season with command performances which produced second place finishes in both the Catholic League City Championship and the State District Meet. The '76 Squad rolled up numerous impressive statistics, and ranks as one of the finest cross country teams in Brother Rice history. Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity were under the direction of head coach Br. R. A. Schul.

This year's team was led by the finest runner in Rice history, Senior Gene Payne. Payne had a truly outstanding season, in which he broke the existing school record with a three-mile time of 14:14. In addition, Payne finished second in the City Championship and State District meet. Gene also became Rice's first representative in the State Finals, in which he finished fourteenth. The other Seniors on the team were Rich Santucci and Jay Welenc. The Juniors on the squad were John Duffy, Steve Monks, John Saluski, Steve Nicorata and Pat McNally.

The key to the success of this year's team was hard work and motivation. Bro. Schul has always been an avid supporter of the four-year running program at Rice. Despite the loss of this year's Seniors, the team looks forward to another successful season.

Serving With Pride

The Brother Rice Tennis Team, under the coaching of Br. J. B. Moore, ended a rather disappointing Fall Season with a record of 4-5. Co-Captains Bill Olsen and Sean Cronin led the team courageously, but fell to defeat five times, mostly by just a matter of a few points. The team is losing five Seniors, but Br. Moore is optimistic, and looks forward to a promising year ahead.

Under the coaching of Bro. J. McDonald, the swimming team lived up to its expectations, including yet another fine season. Brother stated he was very pleased with the team's performance, terming the year a success. Everyone gave his best as the team became work-oriented, realizing that self-dedication was the key.

The Varsity posted a 13-3 record, finishing third in the Catholic League behind Fenwick and Loyola. The JV also finished third with a record of 12-3. In the Catholic League Championships, Senior Bill Rocha emerged the sole Crusader victor as for the second straight year he won the 100 yard backstroke.

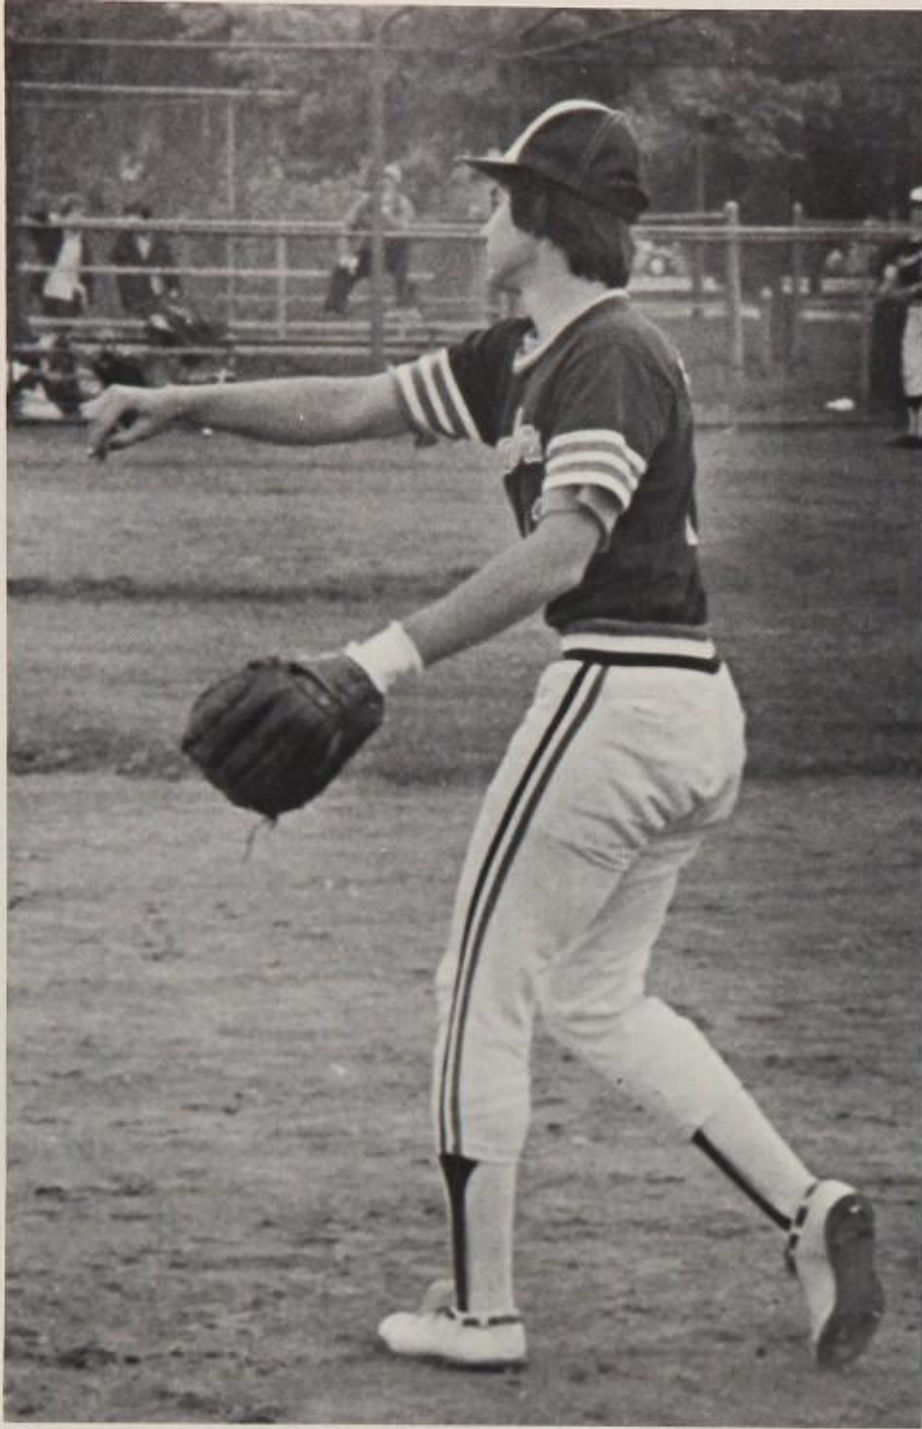

The team qualified four individuals for the state districts — Rocha in his specialty, Tom O'Connell in the 200 yard and 500 yard freestyles, and Dave Finn in the 200 yard individual medley. The squad also qualified two relay teams — the 200 yard medley and the 400 yard freestyle. The swimmers placed third out of eighteen teams in the tough Lyons Township District Meet.

At the state preliminaries, Rich Ward broke the school record of 49.9 for the 100 yard freestyle with a time of 49.48. Dave Finn also broke the school record of 2:06.8 for the individual medley with a time of 2:06.341. Ward's time was also an unofficial pool and district record.

The team was highlighted by the team's two victories over Morgan Park, its third place finish in the Friar's Relay, and the record breaking time of the 200 yard freestyle relay in the Marmion Invitational.

Even with the loss of four outstanding swimmers — Rocha, Ward, Mike Slomski, and Ron Kotula — the year to come looks bright with the return of a number of promising Juniors plus a strong Freshman nucleus.

The 1977 Brother Rice Baseball Team continued this year in the shoes of last year's state champions. The team finished with an overall season record of 32-9.

Behind the bat of Jim Adduci and the glove of Randy Schwartz, the Crusaders captured first place in the Catholic League with a record of 12-1. Coach George Sedlacek, Bro. Hennessy, Jim Adduci, and Randy Schwartz received the Mayor Bilandic Trophy in the Mayor's chambers. Coach Sedlacek was also named as Coach of the Year for the Catholic League.

Besides their first place finish the Crusaders took second place in the Bloom Invitational, losing a heartbreaker to Rich East by the score of 3-2. They gained first place in the first annual District 230 Tournament on May 24, beating Stagg 5-3. J. Klutcharch, R. Langert, R. Schwartz, and B. Cummings were named to the Bloom All-Tournament team.

In the Reporters 1977 All-Area baseball selections, Steve Klutcharch was named Player of the Year. The All-State recommendations went to Bob Cummings, Jim Adduci and Randy Schwartz.

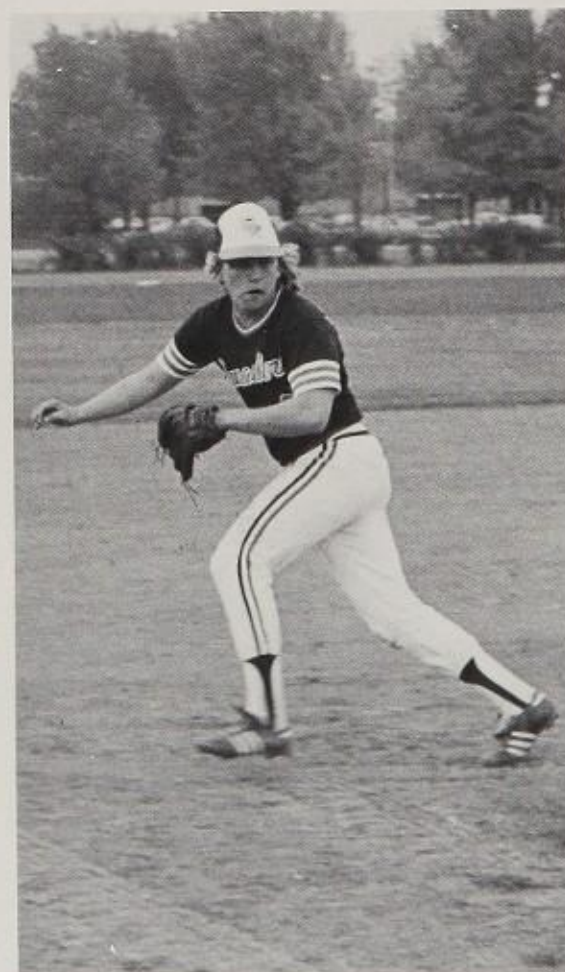

The 1977 Baseball Team once again proved itself one of Rice's powerhouses. The players proved that when it comes to baseball you just can't beat the South Side. And when it comes to baseball on the South Side, well, you just can't beat Brother Rice.

Spurred on by the leadership of Co-Captains Mark Murphy and Mike Dina, the Brother Rice Wrestling Team finished the season with a League record of 5-2-1 and an overall season record of 9-4-1. It was a hard-fought season, but with the coaching of Mr. John Water the wrestlers managed to finish with their more than respectable record. Highlights of the season included a first place finish in the Holy Trinity Tournament and a third place standing in the Catholic League Tournament. With the loss of eleven Senior grapplers, next year will be rough, but hopes are that a strong JV team and returning Varsity will make for another fine year.

Concert Band

Perhaps the most consistently excellent performers in Brother Rice's long list of activities is the Concert Band. Such a record is due in no small part to its leadership: Mr. Leo Henning has devoted himself to Br. Rice for twenty years; Br. Murray, himself an alumnus of the Band, has previously moderated musicians in both Seattle and Honolulu; the 1976-77 Officers were selected for the dedication and maturity which invariably engenders the respect of their peers.

Tirelessly dedicated to Rice, the Band is called upon annually to serve at parades, football games, pep rallies, assemblies, and student concerts. Their presence at these events is too often taken for granted: without them, the cultural level of Br. Rice would sink to new depths!

Chorus

A relative newcomer to the ranks of valuable organizations at Rice, the Chorus has grown rapidly to a stage of confident proficiency.

The Rice Chorus cannot be compared to the old high school "glee club;" its repertoire of classical, sacred, pop, rock and gospel music in itself surpasses traditional attempts to "harmonize" standard glee club fare.

Br. Perkins has taught the Chorus much more than mere musical essentials, so that they may rightly be called "musicians."

In addition, then, to providing great entertainment at their Concerts, the Chorus seeks to educate the public in the diversity of vocal music, an aspect that has been largely ignored for many years.

C.A.L.M.

Calm is a group of dedicated Rice and McAuley upperclassmen who devote their after-school time to tutoring the underprivileged students of the inner city. Every Tuesday, the grammar students from St. Charles Lwanga are brought to Rice where they can receive the private attention they need in various subjects. The CALM sessions last about an hour, but this organization is much more than just a tutoring process; CALM fosters a personal relationship between the teacher and the student that results in satisfaction and a feeling of accomplishment for both parties involved. Now in its twelfth year, the Chicago Area Lay Movement continues to help out the young and underprivileged, and is a fine indication of the generosity that can be found among Rice students.

"Reaching New Heights," the theme of this year's Crusader, provided the standard by which the creators of this book proceeded.

The first height was reached when Mike Maslanka and Joe Borders returned home from summer yearbook workshops at Ball State University. The school year began with Joe as the Editor-in-Chief and Mike as the Assistant Editor.

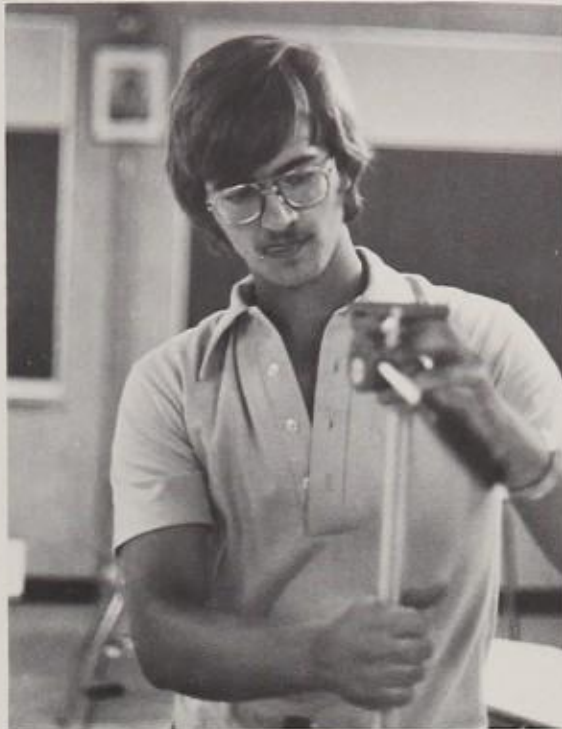

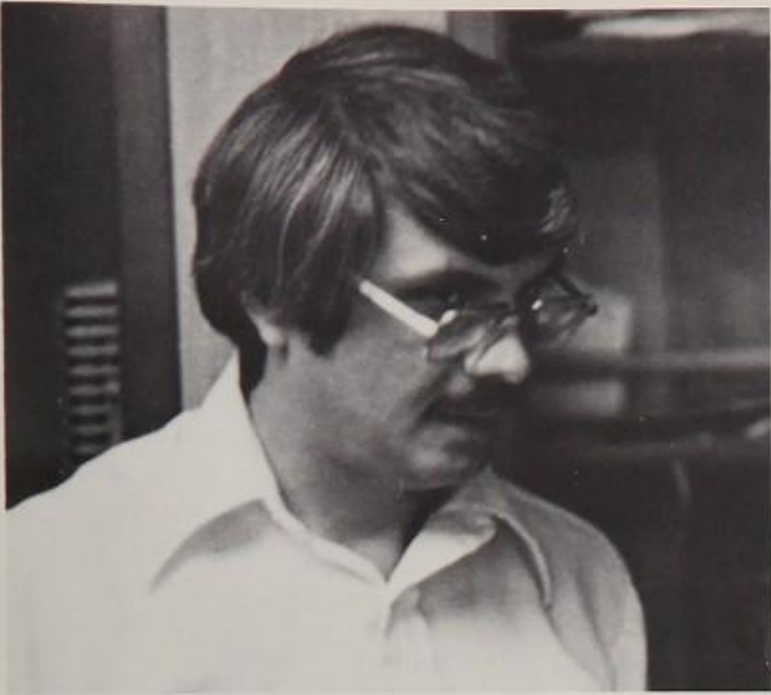

After attending a daytime seminar at Maria High School, the staff began work on 248 pages of blood, sweat, and tears. Under the able direction of Bro. Arndt, the yearbook staff began making deadlines.

The book began to take shape in April and from then right into the summer months material poured in and pages became completed. The hard work continued until the book reached completion at the end of June.

During the year the leadership switched hands as Mike Maslanka became the Editor-in-Chief. All in all, a group of about ten dedicated Seniors and Sophomores were responsible for this eighteenth edition of the Brother Rice Crusader. To them and to Bro. Arndt goes a well-deserved "thanks" for a job well done.

The Brother Rice Standard saw as its main task this year to feel the pulse of school life and to report what it felt to the student population. Editor-in-Chief, Tim Kane, Assistant Editor Mike Frelly, and a multitude of writers, photographers, and layout workers managed to provide the necessary link between school happenings and Rice students. But this is not to say that only the students benefited. Teachers, parents, and anyone interested in the situation at Brother Rice only had to pick up a copy of the Standard to find out what was going on. It takes much hard work to put out a monthly school paper and the people on the staff of the Standard deserve much credit. Their efforts won the paper an award as one of the nation's top school newspapers. Although he won't be here next year Bro. Tomkins, the paper's moderator, wishes the best of luck to next year's staff.

National Honor Society

The Brother Rice chapter of the National Honor Society performs a number of services for the school throughout the year. Members of the organization must be academically qualified (3.0 GPA), as well as be active in sports and/or clubs.

Among other things, the NHS provided the school with ushers for Open House and Parents' Nights. In addition, NHS members were called upon to aid in clean-up operations after many functions.

Honor Society participants also serve as tutors for other Rice students who need assistance in academic endeavors.

The organization is moderated by Bro. J. P. Reynia. NHS exemplifies the spirit of participation and generosity of Rice students.

Illinois State Scholars

This year, sixty-eight Rice seniors were chosen to receive an Illinois State Scholarship award. The award is based on how well students do on their ACT tests and also on their grade point averages in school. The monetary benefits which may accompany the award are more than useful to those students attending state-approved colleges and universities. Although Rice has had more State Scholars in previous years, this year's award-winners serve as further proof of the continuing scholastic excellence of Brother Rice.

Our Emerging Politicians

This year's Student Council was moderated by Bro. K. J. Walczak and headed by President Michael Mayer, Vice-president Mark Murphy, and Secretary Robert Chlebicki. The aim of the council this year was to propagate involvement of students in school activities. Numerous activities were sponsored by the Student Council including: movies, grub days, spirit week, a freshman overnight, coffee houses, and many other events.

Throughout the year, the officers of the Student Council proved themselves to be responsible and concerned individuals by consistently trying to meet the needs of student body. This form of self-government in high school not only adds to the increase of the students' understanding of administration, but also perpetuates an understanding between the involved student and the respective faculty members concerned.

Photo Club

The main purpose of the Photo Club is to provide photographers for school publications and to instruct interested students in photographic techniques. The Club is headed by Mr. Eric Haffner and Senior Ron Karabowicz. These two are responsible for the activities of the Photo Club, which include darkroom time and general meetings. The meetings are held every two weeks so that the members can discuss any pertinent matters. The members of the Club are looking forward to yet another successful year ahead.

Library

The use of the Library is essential to a student's four-year education at Rice. The Library offers a vast assortment of books and magazines, not to mention the large collection of specialized materials available to the student. The Library Club works diligently at maintaining order and efficiency. Besides keeping general maintenance throughout the Library, the club also checks books in and out as well as properly replacing and arranging books.

The Library Club is continually striving for excellence under the guidance of Bro. E. G. Pilon. Members of the club become familiar with the facets of library science, a knowledge that will undoubtedly prove valuable in future education.

A-V Center

The Audio-Visual Center contains a phenomenal amount of media paraphernalia which is repaired and maintained by members of the audio-visual club. As well as providing themselves with an excellent background in communication devices, the students who work in the center provide a service to the rest of the school. The ready accessibility the classroom instructors have to filmstrips, screens, tape recorders, projectors, record players, and video tape machines is largely due to the work of the club members. The work done in the Audio Visual Center is rather unique among high schools and adds more depth to the scholastic program at Brother Rice.

Bookstore

Under the management of Bro. Vorlick, the bookstore has become an oasis for travelers in the desert world of school life. Not only does the bookstore provide the Rice student with the bare necessities of life — paperbacks, textbooks, writing implements, locks, etc. — but this Wanderer's Dreamland also stocks food in the form of candy bars, and shelter in the form of windbreakers, jackets, Rice shirts, and a complete line of men's sporting apparel.

With the aid of a competent crew of assistants, Bro. Vorlick has managed to corner the school supply business at Rice; a task that requires his being both convenient and small while still fulfilling the needs of all Rice students.

Pep Club

The 1977 Brother Rice Pep Club, under the direction of Bro. D. D. Casey, was a major factor in many of the successes gained over the course of the year. Seven Seniors and one Junior led the club in their unique attempts at boosting student morale.

Shouts and cries at sporting events and pep rallies were often responsible for the support given to Rice's various teams. Short skits at the rallies and school assemblies poked fun at the numerous foes of the Crusaders and spurred Ricemen to take pride in their teams and school.

The time and unselfish effort given on the part of the members of the Pep Club deserve a hearty pat on the back. Without them many of the year's achievements would not have been possible.

Alumni Association

There is a way for graduated students of Brother Rice to continue their connections with the school as well as to further old friendships. The way is for them to join the Alumni Association. The Association competes in various sporting events organized and played at Rice, and also takes part in the Homecoming festivities. Bro. P. L. Vorlick, the Association's head, sees the Alumni Association as a more than worthwhile venture and hopes to eventually include in it a great number of Rice graduates.

Mothers' Club

Bro. E. T. Hennessy directed the Brother Rice Mothers' Club to yet another bright year. The Mothers' Club is responsible for the direction of many of the social events transpiring during the school year.

All mothers of Rice students are eligible to join the club. Meetings are held monthly to discuss any and all matters at hand. Bro. Hennessy and the annually-elected officers preside at the meetings and are generally responsible for the coordination of all the events.

The Mothers' Club is, indeed, an indispensable association of Brother Rice. As long as it and the Dads' Club exist, concerned parents of Rice students can lend a helping hand and voice their opinions about the school.

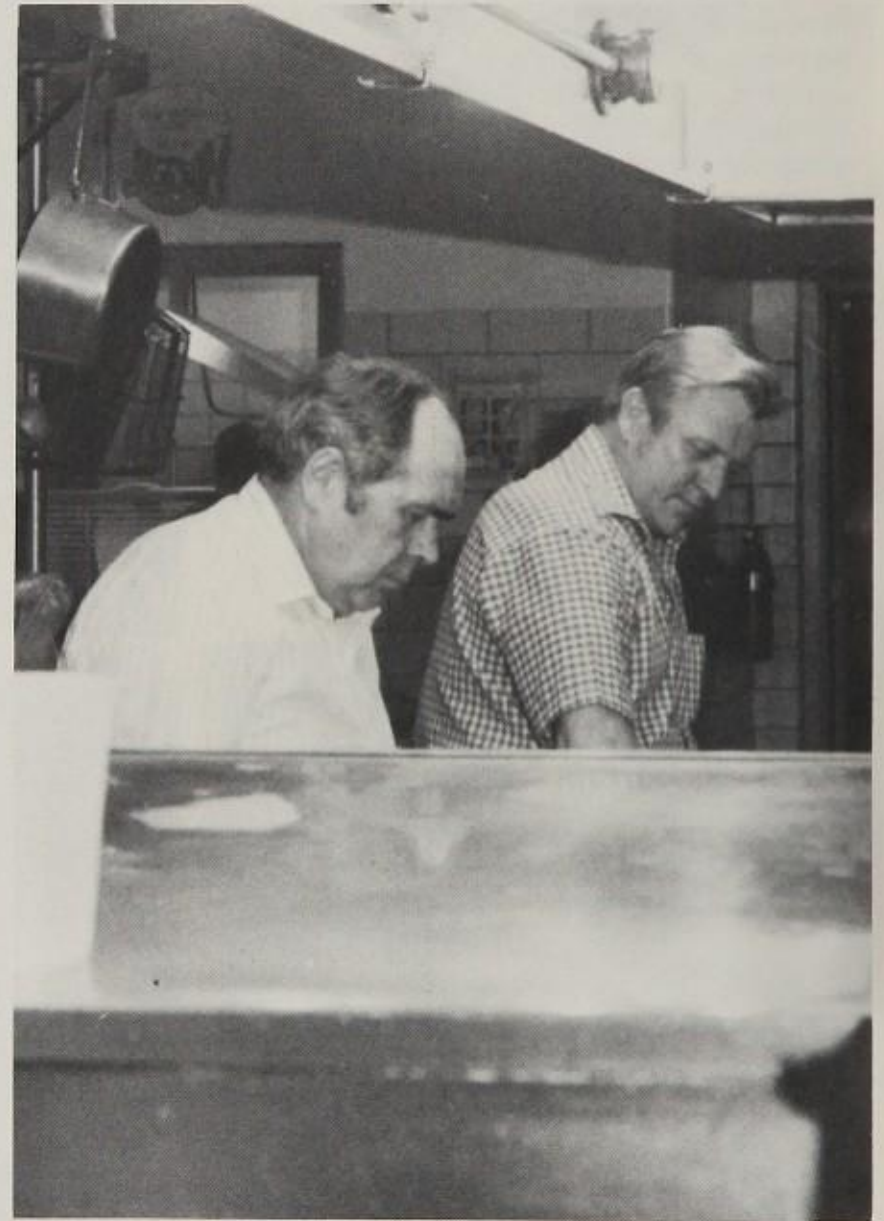

By Jupiter! Dinner-Dance

Under the sponsorship of the Mothers' Club, a truly enjoyable joint-effort was achieved in the production of Rodgers' and Hart's "By Jupiter!" Bro. E. J. Noonan adapted this venerable musical, and directed talented amateurs — Rice Moms, Dads, and faculty members. After the show and dinner, parents and friends of Brother Rice spent the remainder of the evening on the dance floor, an added touch that not even the more fashionable dinner play-houses can provide for their patrons.

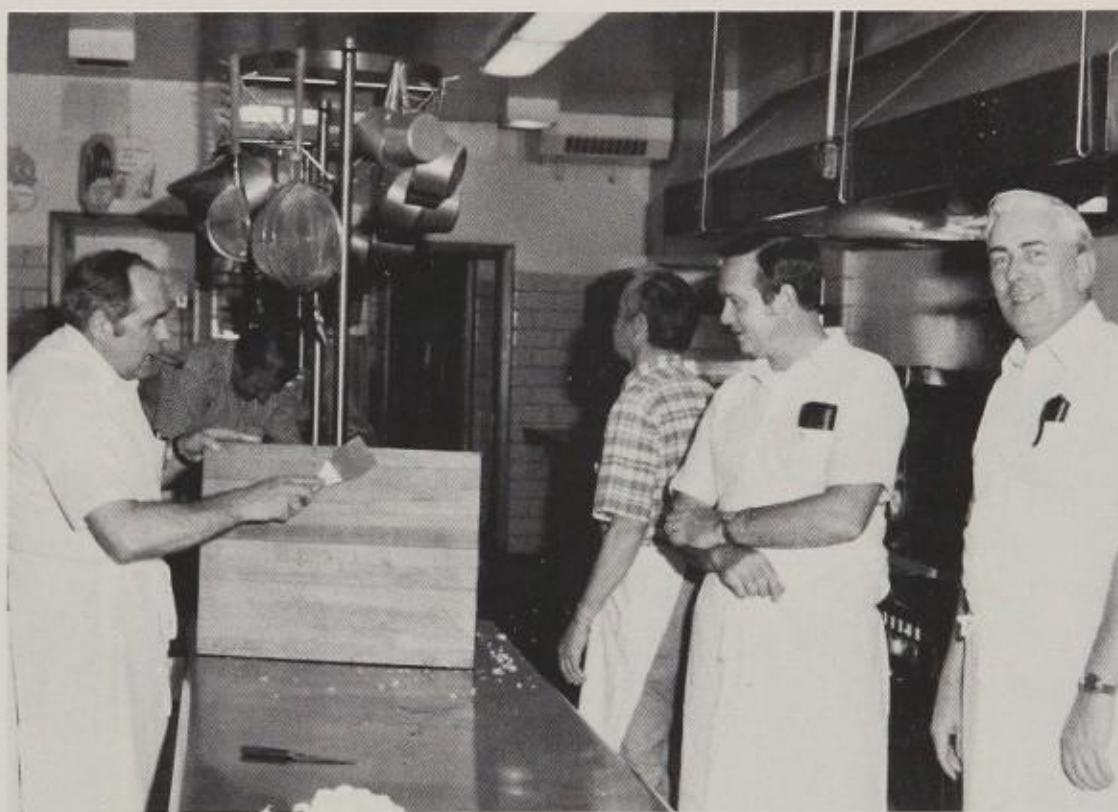

Fathers' Club

There is a very integral driving force that is responsible for many of the accomplishments at Brother Rice. This force is known as the Dads' Club. Under the direction of Bro. Vranka, the Dads' Club held several meetings and various special events to raise money for the school over the course of the year. The monthly meetings are geared toward informing the members of all business at hand and providing the opportunity for fathers and sons to meet and mingle. The Club's assistant director, Bro. McDonald, believes that the Dads' Club is essential to Brother Rice because it allows the parents to become actively involved in the school. The benefits of the Dad's Club are numerous. Among them is the assurance that a student will be able to continue his education at Rice should his father pass away.

Alumnae Mothers' Club

1976 BOARD (L. to R.) Mrs. F. Daily (Financial Secretary), Mrs. B. Casey (Corresponding Secretary), Mrs. S. Dobeck (Treasurer), Mrs. W. Piers (Vice President), Mrs. H. Wagner (President).

Under the direction of Bro. E. G. Pilon, the Brother Rice Mother's Alumnae Club seeks to further the friendships formed in the Mother's Club. The Club, founded in 1960, is responsible for various social events during the year to help the House of Formation. This year the Club donated a pipe organ to the school, an act that will not be forgotten.

Alumni Fathers' Club

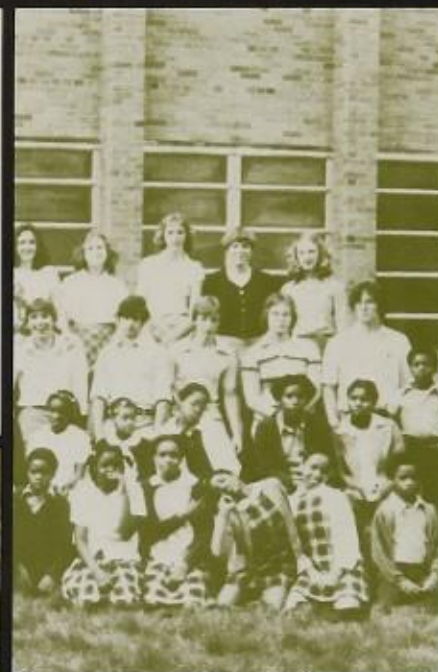

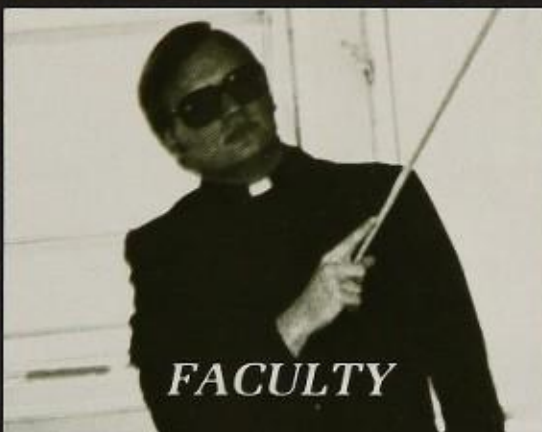

Like the Mother's Alumnae Club, the Brother Rice Alumni Dad's Club continues friendships formed in the Father's Club. Moderated by Bro. E. M. Vranka, the Club assists the school in such ways as raising money for the purchase of sports equipment for Rice's athletic teams. Other events under the direction of the Club are held to raise money and provide a forum for the Dad's to come together and enjoy social gatherings.

1976 OFFICERS (L. to R.) Bro. Vranka, J. Konieczny, B. Darnell, V. McInerney, H. Clingen.

As the directing element of Brother Rice, the Administration serves as the backbone to the success of the school. Always open to change, the Administration has managed to keep Rice running smoothly while other high schools have begun to feel heavily the pressures of the modern world.

Brother Hennessy, C.F.C., and Mr. Cassidy, as the principal and vice-principal respectively, see to the administrative duties while Bro. Duffin, C.F.C., and Mr. Sedlacek, as the deans, handle the students in good times as well as bad. The general operations of the main office are ably handled by Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Urbanik while Mrs. Hoff sees to such specifics as college applications. A major change this year occurred when Mrs. Lucas took over for Mr. Perry in admittance. Many other persons, too numerous to mention, aid in many areas which complement the Administration as the driving force of Brother Rice.

The future of the school with such people and policies seems quite hopeful. The Administration has taken the school through many rough times over the past twenty-one years, and with a method characterized by the room for improvement, seems quite capable of doing so in the years to come.

The Brother Rice Library saw quite a few changes over the last year. Over the summer an inventory took place and was the cause of the ordering of many new books among which were several dealing with the Bicentennial. A new notebook series, the "Social Issues Resource Series," was also introduced. It is geared for students needing to complete in-depth study in any one of a number of areas. The updating of fiction and reference material was completed after consultations with the heads of the various departments and it is hoped this renovation will provide Rice students with the necessary information for their numerous papers and study requirements.

All freshman classes are introduced to the library and its facilities in orientation ceremonies. All students are allowed to use the library whether for necessity or just for pleasure. It is an excellent place to study and an invaluable aid to students seeking to escape the hectic schedule of the day.

The school suffered a serious setback when Brother Pilon, C.F.C. the library's head, was taken down with illness and missed much of the year. Brother recovered and was once again seen probing about the library as the year ended.

Contact With The World

The Social Sciences Department at Brother Rice is geared toward providing a student with the knowledge and information necessary to lead a fundamental Christian life in American society. The department also seeks to instruct students in a manner which allows them to take pride in the country in which they live.

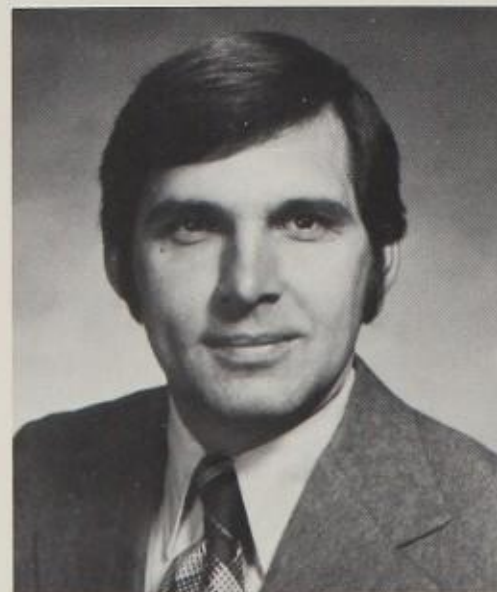

In teaching the courses, the instructors must be constantly aware of both national and international situations so as to successfully present them to their pupils. By doing this, the department's major aim is accomplished and the student realizes his place in the United States and the world around him.

Bringing Logic To Life

The Mathematics Department attempts to provide the student with a solid foundation in the principles and practical application of modern mathematics. Chaired by Brother J. P. Reynia, the department offers a variety of courses on all levels for the interested student.

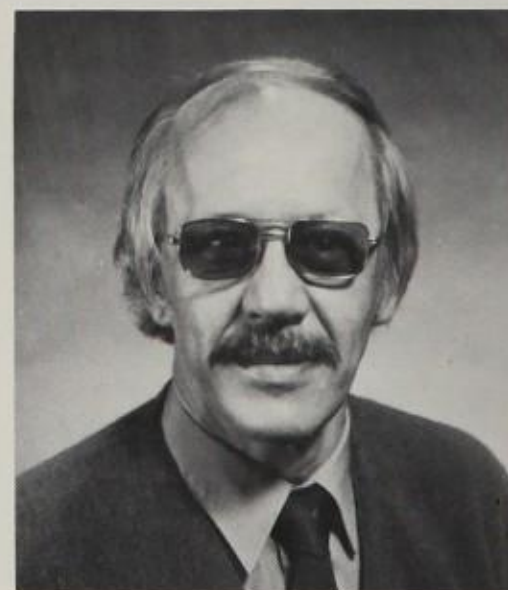

The Math Department is continually introducing new material, reviewing and introducing new and better books; and just recently, the department offered a new course to seniors — Probability and Statistics — along with College Algebra. The success of the Mathematics Department can be seen in the consistently high scores Rice students turn in on the various national exams.

The Language Department is one of the many prides of Brother Rice. Under the vigorous direction of department head Brother Karl J. Walczak, the language department has made some important strides in the last year. The freshman approach in French completely differs from that of a year ago. The class is sometimes divided into three sections where one works with earphones in a miniature language lab; the second group works on the written aspects in a workbook, while the third gets personal attention from the teacher. This new approach cuts down the number of people working with a teacher at one time, affording a much more effective learning experience. In the near future, there will be a new Spanish course aimed at attaining basic, practical knowledge.

Not everyone likes to take a language, but it is very important because no other subject correlates History, Geography, Grammar, Sociology, and even Politics into one forty-five minute period. With all the progressive changes in store for the Language Department, the next four years look even brighter.

Being a very integral part of the scholastic schedule at Brother Rice, the English Department is constantly seeking improvement in many areas. Electives for seniors this year include such subjects as Utopian Literature, Western Literature, Heroes in Literature, World Literature, and Science Fiction Literature. Areas for underclassmen are geared to provide them with the necessary preparations for college among which are in literature, grammar, writing, and the general appreciation and understanding of English in the modern world.

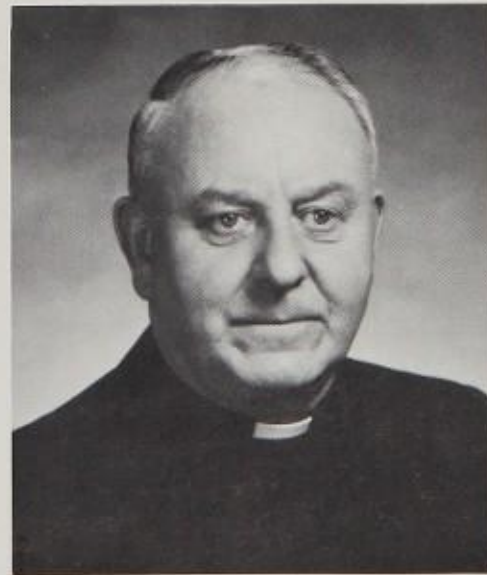

Brother R. E. Tomkins, C.F.C., the department's head, would "like to jump ahead of other schools' English programs." He proposes to do this by a return to the fundamentals such as reading, writing, and grammar. The first three years of study include writing papers, developing necessary grammar skills, and reading both inside and outside of class. Seniors are presented with a more advanced track of study to prepare them for college work. This is accomplished through the reading and interpretations of Greek and English tragedies, the writing of in-depth papers concerning various aspects of literature, and a general refinement of the understanding of English in today's society.

Brother would like to introduce an area of study called "English Studies." This would involve a four-year study which gradually advances the student to the point where he is well prepared for college by the time he graduates. This would be accomplished on a three track program which includes honors, academics, and general academics. The honors students would be expected to be able to handle a heavier work schedule as well as to contribute to the school's literary publications. While the work load of the academics student would be lessened he would be expected to compete equally with the honors student in other areas. Brother sees a bright future ahead for the department and hopes to shape it so as to prepare the students to meet the demands of the world today. His personal opinions toward the department are that "we have a strong and excellent faculty." We will use our experience and experiment in a manner which allows all students to meet the needs of the times.

The need for a basic understanding of the concepts in physical and biological sciences is primary. The Science Department at Rice teaches the student to be a more careful reader, a critical observer, and a more in-depth thinker. Some of the goals of the Science Department are to give the student a good basic background of science for further study, and to expose the student to the principles of order and logic which govern ourselves and the world in which we live. The Science Department affords Rice students the opportunity to explore the theories and experiments of Physical Science, Biology, Earth Science, Chemistry, and Physics.

A Way Of Life

The Religion Department is the focal point of the academic curriculum at Brother Rice. The Religion Department is concerned with forming the proper religious philosophies of the student, perpetuating that philosophy, and making the Roman Catholic doctrines understandable and applicable to the high school student. The Religion Department is chaired by Mr. Joseph T. Ceh. Mr. Ceh feels religion should be a truly academic subject, giving the student a knowledgeable foundation on which to base and defend his religion.

The Religion Department enjoys a full four year program. The program at Rice is a progressive one which builds on the material from past courses and prepares for the courses to come, thus allowing the department to fully develop religious philosophies.

Toward Practical Management

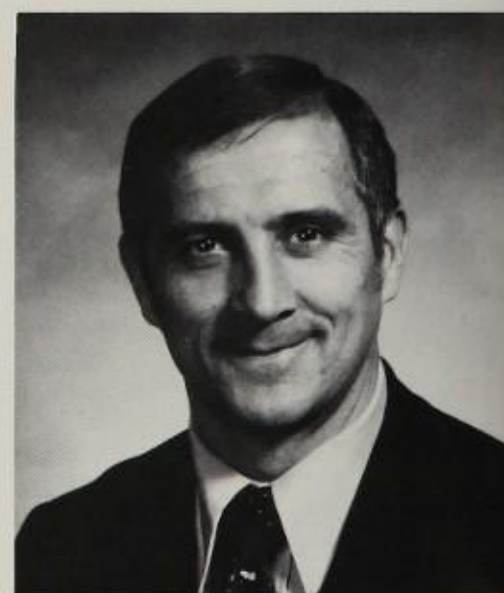

In a world which places emphasis on knowing something about business and financial matters, the Business Department seeks to provide the student with a foothold enabling him to become well-prepared for these matters. The courses offered are Accounting, Advanced Accounting, Economics, Business Law, and Consumer Education. The department is directed by the able hand of Mr. R. C. Osburn.

Accounting and Advanced Accounting are aimed at providing introductions to the operations of businesses and corporations. Economics helps the student understand the workings of the American economy while Business Law applies insight into the basics of law and American business. Consumer Education, introduced this year, involves a semester of typing and a semester of the study of consumer problems such as insurance, stocks, real estate, and taxes. The course has been welcomed by many and has proven to be a great success.

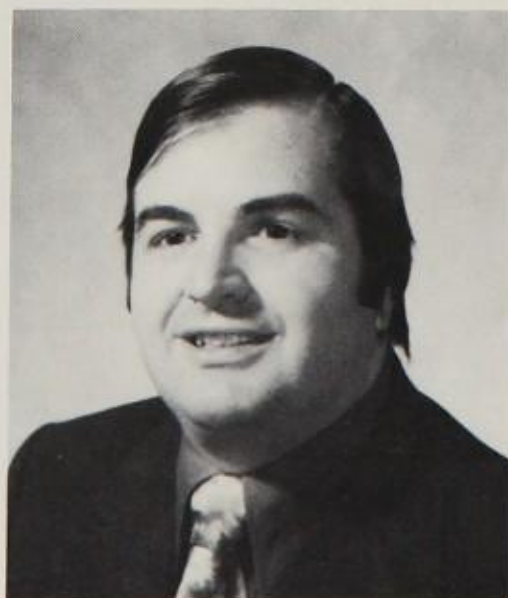

Like the library, the Business Department suffered a serious setback in the loss of Mr. Osburn during the earlier part of the year. After a quick and healthy recovery Mr. Osburn is once again seated behind his desk in the financial office and is welcomed back by all.

Developing The Physical Man

The physical education course at Brother Rice aims at providing a student with a fit body and with the confidence to be able to actively participate in many types of competition. The two years devoted to physical education are divided into two portions which include gym and swimming.

The gym portion consists of such exercises as basketball, softball, volleyball, and races of all kinds. Swimming involves primarily the teaching of fundamentals in freshman year and instructions in lifesaving techniques in sophomore year.

Under the able guidance of Mr. W. C. Kellogg, the department has continually kept up with the standards of physical fitness expected today. Healthy competition is often more important than just winning and is just what the physical education program at Rice seeks to provide.

Sharing his time with the English Department is the Chairman of Music, Br. D. X. Perkins. He resurrected the long-dead Br. Rice Chorus, and has now indeed "reached new heights" with the display of vocal talent presented to the school with each concert.

Long-term professionals associated with Br. Rice, Mr. Leo Henning and Mr. Patrick Henning have continued their pursuit of musical excellence with the Concert Band, Esquire Band, and Marching Band.

Smooth operation of all Band activities depends upon the management of Br. D. D. Murray, whose low-keyed organizational leadership has paved the way for high-powered, spirited musicianship.

Someone To Turn To

While most departments underwent changes during the year, the Guidance Department was not to be outdone. Broadening its outlook greatly, the department established various areas of counselling of interest to underclassmen as well as to the seniors.

Freshmen are given talks on drugs and alcoholism by such agencies as the Chicago Police Department. Second semester freshmen are given the Ohio Vocational Interest Survey in order to start them thinking now about their college and career plans.

Juniors and Seniors concerned with furthering their education after high school find the Guidance Center invaluable. Numerous catalogs are available concerning colleges and career plans. Counselors continually aid these students with such things as ACT and SAT tests, financial aid, evaluation of scholastic records, and providing them with the helpful hand needed in choosing a college.

While most of the success of the department is attributed to the counselors, Mrs. Cari deserves much credit. As a para-professional she handles the numerous representatives of colleges asked or visiting the school. According to Mr. Hanisits, "Mrs. Cari is a great aid. She was almost entirely responsible for the huge success of college night."

New Professionalism In Technical Drawing

Mr. E. W. Haffner

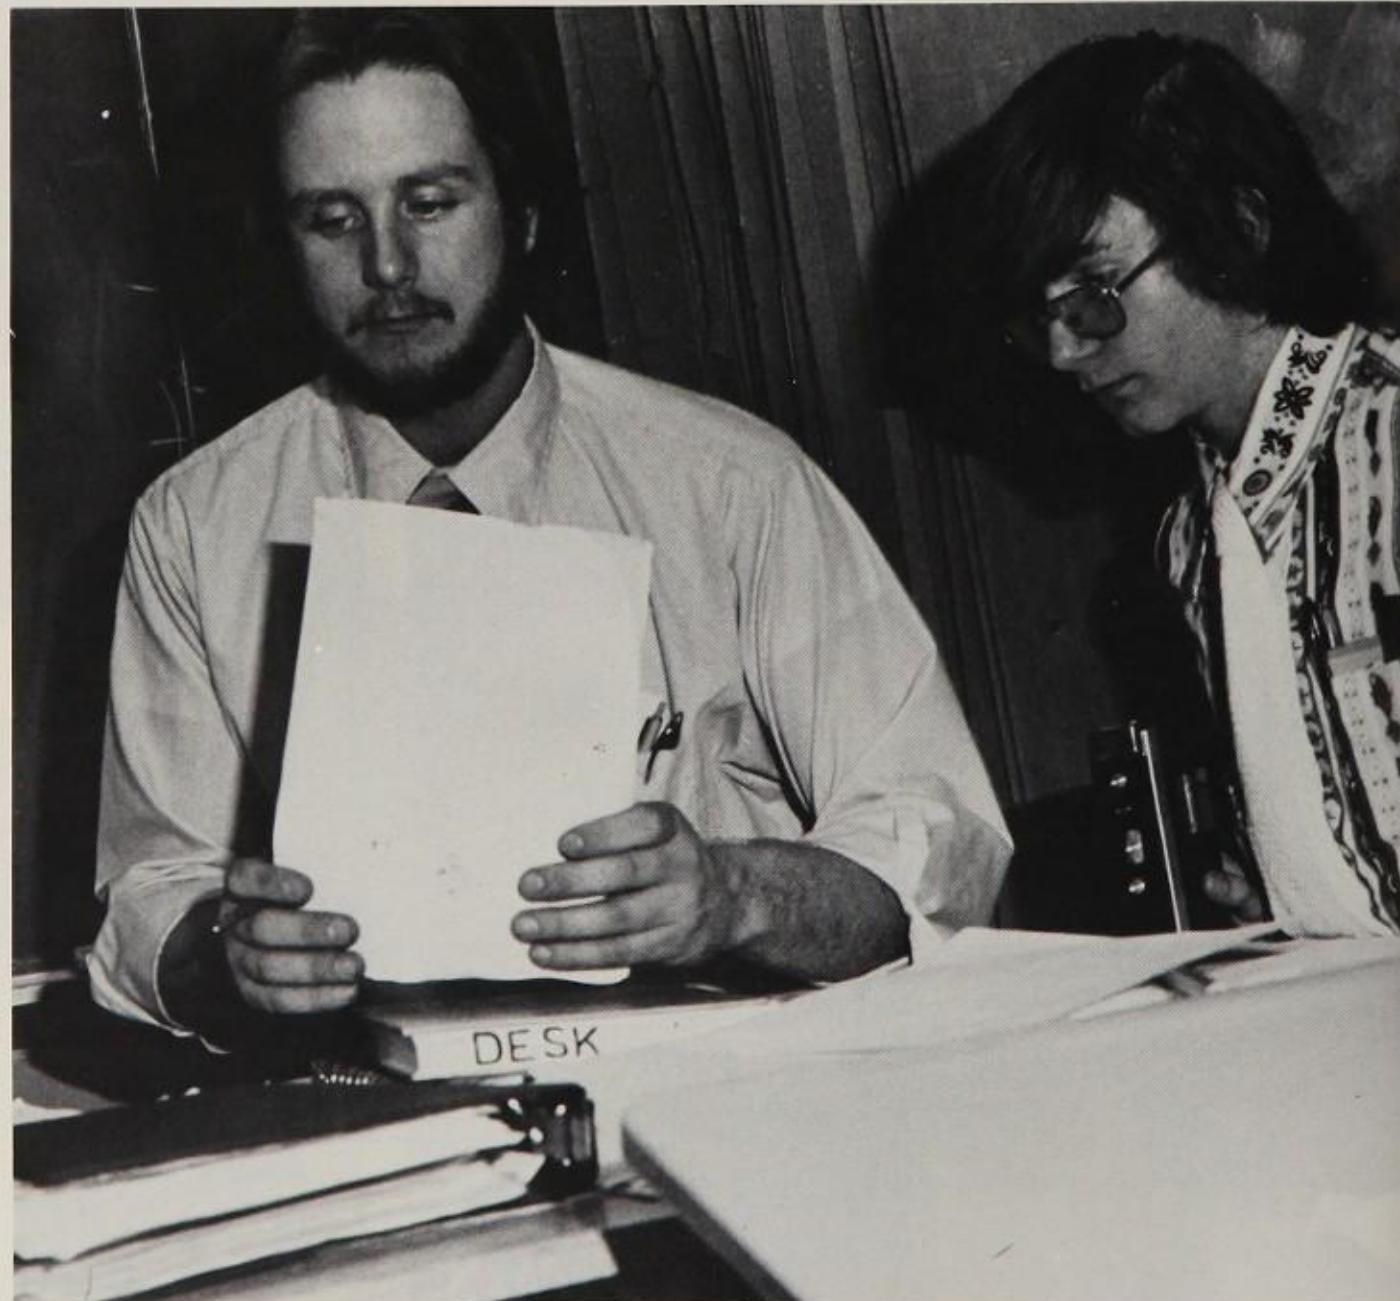

This year marked the first time in years that the Drafting Department was without its head, Brother Joyce. Brother transferred to Seattle at the end of last year and into his place stepped a newcomer to Rice, Mr. Eric Haffner.

The Drafting Department is divided into three basic courses which consist of mechanical, architectural, drawing. Each centers on the purpose of providing the student not only with the basics for further college study but also with the ability to comprehend designs and drawings and to understand the various aspects of a blue print. The materials utilized vary with the course but all are integral to the goal of allowing a student to practice and experiment in the field of drafting.

Mr. Haffner hopes to be able to continue the excellent tradition left behind by Brother Joyce. He sees much promise in the classes he has handled this year, and, to him, the interest and desire to pursue the study are the most important assets to any student.

Br. L. C. Uicker

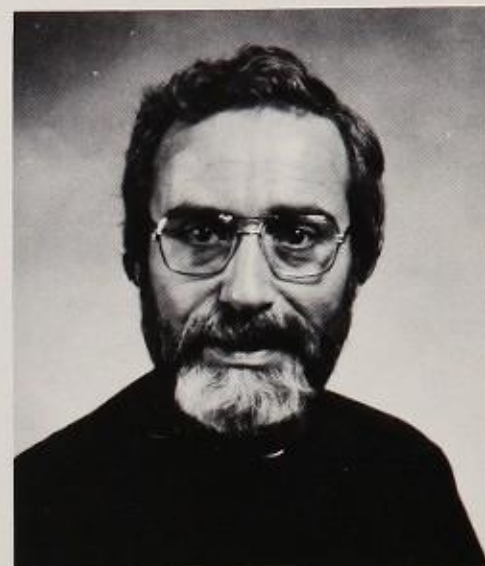

Displaying Of Talents

Brother M. C. Chavira, C.F.C., the current head of the Art Department, sees a promising future ahead for creative art at Brother Rice. Even though it is his first year at Rice, Brother believes his students have the ability and the positive attitude necessary for success. He admits that "it's easy to guide young people with such high enthusiasm."

Brother Chavira is a great asset to his students, not only instructing them as to basics but also guiding them in their work. He tries to avoid merely telling them what to do. He teaches them using a free hand, and this has helped the students to become more open and creative. The results of this method can be seen in the showcase just outside the cafeteria.

The Art Department includes different areas of study. The freshmen and sophomores who show promise are enrolled in a more advanced course in their junior and senior years. In these advanced areas the students are expected to show greater appreciation for art by using their already established abilities to move on to further development.

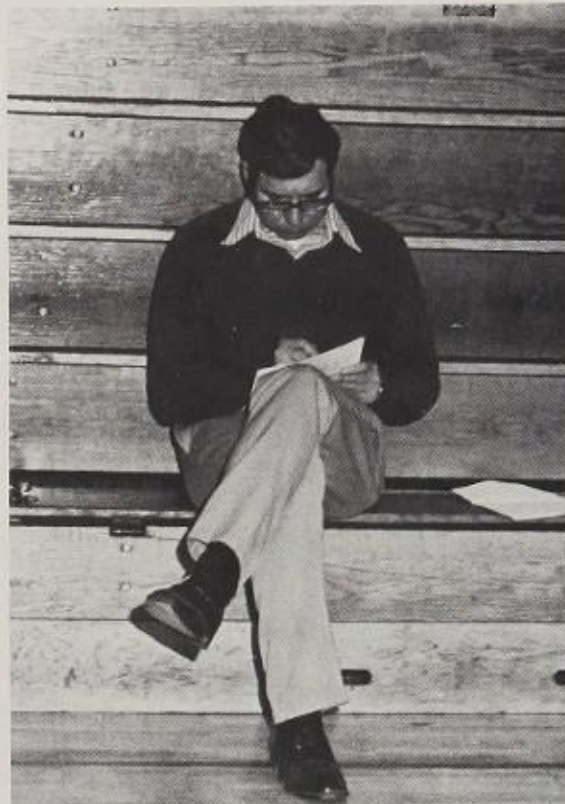

Br. M. C. Chavira

People Never Thanked

Juniors

Junior year is perhaps the strangest year of all. The junior has finally mastered the demon inside his combination lock yet can still be seen with a minimum of three books at any hour of the day. The average junior spends a vast portion of the first semester getting up enough guts to ask his sister to Homecoming. The second semester is wasted doing much more important things such as worrying about the ACT test and trying very hard not to acknowledge his freshman and sophomore friends. Junior year is unique in that it is the point in the student's life when he first evolves from his animalistic freshman nature into a tolerable human being. The junior is not all that great however because his ability to transcend his former nature is generally attributed to pure luck rather than any effort on the junior's part.

This third year of secondary education is probably the greatest period of maturing during high school. The junior must go through the dilemma of choosing the college he will attend, experiencing his first Saturday Jug, and trying desperately to pass Bro. Tomkins' English class.

The junior is basically a follower-of seniors. He will worship the ground seniors walk on, and if some babbling buffoon erroneously mistakes him for a senior he will consider himself most honored. Probably the greatest problem one encounters with a junior is his incessant desire to become a senior before his time. And this great achievement can only come with much hard work and diligent practice.

... although the juniors will progress to the level of seniors next year, their task is hopeless. They must attempt to fill the shoes of the Class of '77 — a monumental job to say the least. With much concentration, however, the juniors will eventually be able to accomplish great good. As members of the Class of '78 enter the final stage of high school education they can reflect back on a number of successes in the last three years (as well as a number of failures). With the experience of the past and a growing thirst for knowledge they will endeavor to fulfill that which is expected of a senior class — academic excellence, leadership, and a sound spiritual philosophy. The juniors have endured the test of time as they encounter the zenith of their high school life — senior year.

Smart students learn to laugh with Bro. Toole.

"We'll get expelled for this!"

Another year has passed in the glorious history of Brother Rice. The school's high-reaching standards and traditions have been upheld despite the phenomenon known as the "Sophomore."

The freshman of yesterday is now the sophomore of today. If the freshman could be described as naive, senseless, and laughable, the sophomore would have to be placed in an entirely different category. He would have to be described as experienced, senseless, and laughable.

The spotting of a sophomore isn't difficult for the experienced eye. All one has to do is to look for an aged bennie who is critical of bennies; he is either a freshman with an unusual but enlightened view of himself, or he is the illustrious second year student who is now all-knowing. There are, of course, other ways to spot a sophomore if one should ever want to. First of all he has progressed over and above his tendencies to carry his entire locker with him. He now knows the true value of his locker privilege and keeps in it a three week overdue library book and a three month overdue sandwich.

The sophomore, or rather the professional bennie, is a mainstay to the Rice sawdust dances. He no longer feels the urgent need to hold up all of the gymnasium walls — he knows, in his enlightened state, that it's just the two side walls that need support. He is a man of courage, he reads carefully over his recently acquired handbook — "How to Pick up Teen-Aged Girls." He has mustered up enough courage to ask an Eighth-Grade girl her phone number but, keeping with his character, he overlooks the trifling detail of asking the girl her name.

All is not lost for the sophomore because at least he has improved on his track record for last year (not that that's saying much). He realizes he is making mistakes but what he hasn't learned is how to correct these mistakes. When he returns next year he will no longer be a sophomore; he will be a step up, a three year old bennie — he will be a junior.

From this group will be chosen our finalists.

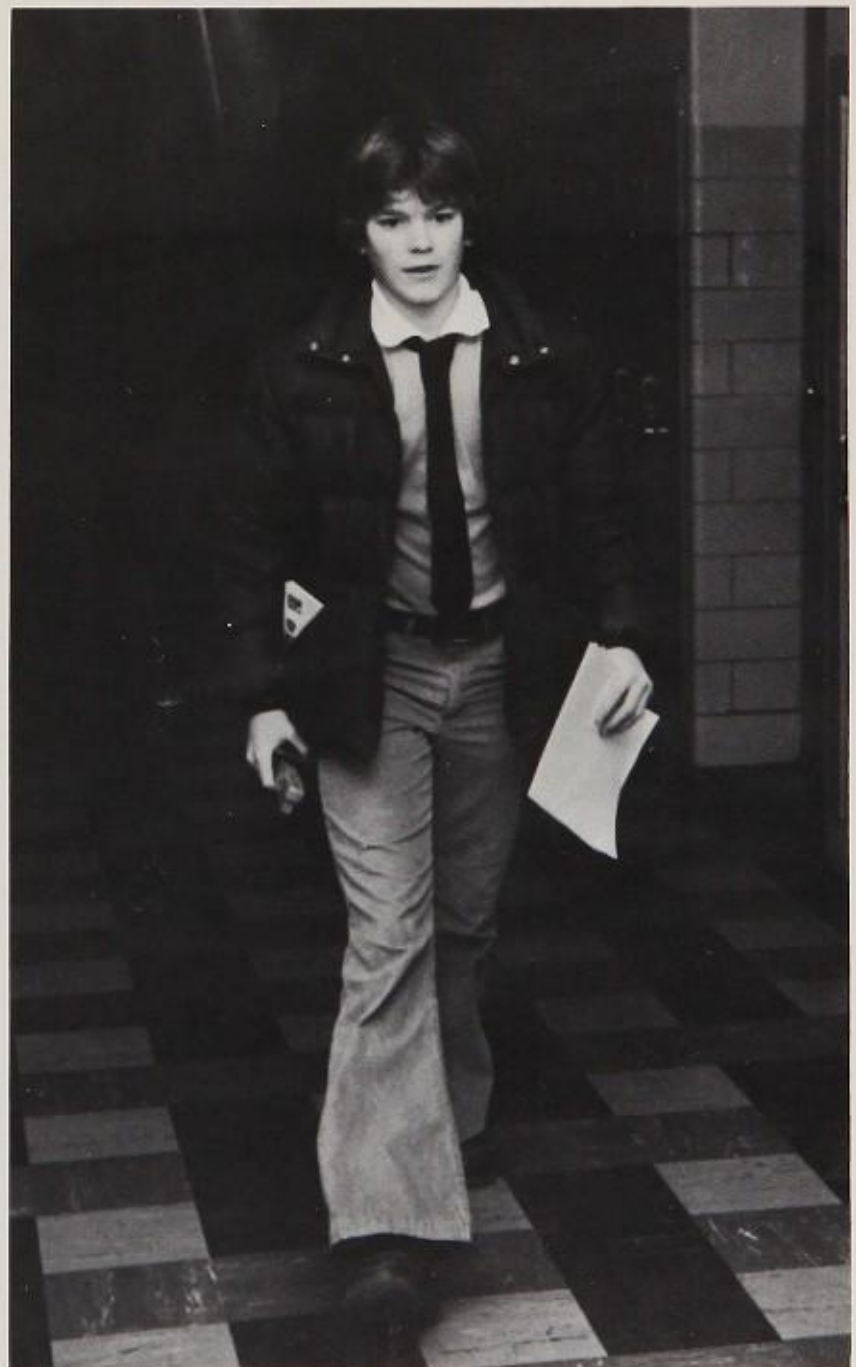

And here they are!

"Yell if he surfaces again, kid!"

. . . in all fairness though, the sophomore does deserve credit. After all, he has, at this point, made it through two of the toughest years of his life. After almost eighty weeks of school, after countless hours of (ahem!) painful study, and after many entanglements with various instructors, the sophomore has attained his third plateau — junior year. He can expect to be battered by the ups and downs that affront all juniors, but with the knowledge he has gained over the past two years he should come out smelling like a (rose?). With the right amount of patience, with the ability to sit out the long lectures, and with the urgent need to graduate, he may even become, someday, that blessed and beautiful creature commonly called the "Senior."

Freshmen

The typical freshman, if such a species exists, is indeed an interesting character. Many things have been said about him. More things are still to be said. Still more are better left unsaid.

Contrary to popular belief the average freshman cannot be described as silly, senseless, witless, ill-advised, misguided, and, in general, laughable. The freshman is actually the most normal creature in existence. It just so happens that the rest of the world is strange.

Everyone knows a freshman; he is the one with the unfamiliar (and for that matter, unforgettable) face. He does, however, have other basic characteristics. Although having completed eight years of primary schooling, the inimitable bennie still has the problem of mastering the complexities involved in the operation of the combination lock; consequently he tends to carry with him a minimum of seven books. This problem with locker security is compounded by the inevitable, fruitless quest for the Messiah of all Jammed Lockers, Mr. Sedlacek.

The bennie of today is not the same as his counterparts of yesteryear. No longer is the manufacture of hall and elevator passes a fruitful business enterprise during the first week of school. In fact, if one offers to sell the modern bennie one, he will be told exactly where to go — the goldfish pond.

All things considered, the easiest way to spot a bennie, as has always been true, would be to attend a Rice dance. He is the one with the gnawing fear that the walls of the gym are insecure and in constant need of support. Strange as it may sound, this phenomenon (the so-called "Chicken Little the-walls-are-falling" principle) reoccurs during the entire first year.

The freshman does have some redeeming qualities. First and most important, he won't be a freshman when and if he returns to Rice next year. Secondly, no students at Rice can be too critical since we all were (and in some cases are) bennies. Finally, he'll get a chance at being foolish next year when he is that godly creature known as the sophomore.

"I'll try once more, then get a crowbar."

"I'd like to stay a freshman."

Zuffa, J.

Zukaukas, R.

... much has been said about the bumbling bennie, and some of it has been inaccurate. To begin with, the bennie deserves to at least be called a freshman. After all, he made it through a full year of such difficult subjects as Algebra, French I, English, and Religion. He has studied as never before in his scholastic endeavor; he has learned to be at the right place at an adequate time; and he has acquired a working knowledge toward the general layout of the school. The freshman now goes on. Sophomore year is inevitable, while junior year appears faintly in the distance. Senior year is a dream which the freshman cannot comprehend. Someday, though, he will; oh how he will!

Help me, I'm . . . a Bennie!
